Bank teller apologizes only to be faced with hold-up gun

A former teller with the local branch, Bank of Montreal, apologized for opening the door of a Burnaby bank a few minutes late this morning, only to be faced with a revolver.

Michael Catchpole, son of Ven. Archdeacon and Mrs. D. S. Catchpole, opened the door of a Burnaby bank a few minutes after 10 a.m. remarking "I'm sorry we're a few minutes late in opening."

"That's all right, we want all the money," retorted one of the bandits. He and a companion escaped with $5,000. The get-away car was driven by a woman.

Catchpole was a teller in the local branch of the B of M before being transferred to the Burnaby bank.

Hospital had $28,727.85 deficit on last year's operation, meeting told Kelowna General Hospital had an operating deficit of $28,727.85 last year, it was disclosed at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Society yesterday afternoon. Last year's deficit was $19,568.40.

J. I. Monteith, president of the society, in his annual report, admitted that the major cost of operating a hospital is attributable to salaries, and the payroll increase is due to the fact that this is the first full twelve months that the staff has worked a 40-hour week.

"It seems the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service is working to keep us in the red. Only two hospitals in B.C. made a profit during 1955, and that profit was very slight," he charged.

"We are behind in our accounts payable, and we will be behind until the BCHIS takes a realistic approach to the hospital problems," Mr. Monteith said that up until now, the hospital has been able to pay the staff on time, "but we have only been able to do this by borrowing from the bank."

A. W. Gray, president of the Kelowna Hospital Society, said that while the government has authorized the BCHIS to accept 33 1/3 percent of the operating deficit for 1955, the board does not know what is to happen to the remaining 66 2/3 percent. "And at this stage we have no final notification regarding our 1954 deficit," he said.

In conclusion Mr. Monteith said the board is now revising the by-laws of the society, bearing in mind the possible formation of hospital improvement district.

SALARY INCREASE

City Council Monday night approved raising Fire Chief Fred Gore's salary from $350 to $375 a month, effective January 1. Salary of Harold Glenn, city hall caretaker, was raised from $148 to $153 per month effective January 1. The wage increases bring them in line with others granted city employees earlier this year.

Civil defence heads confer

Civil defence coordinators from three different levels gathered briefly in Kelowna on Wednesday to confer with Mayor J. J. Ladd and representatives of service clubs on the problems confronting the local C.D. organization. Above, Major General F. F. Worthington, federal co-ordinator, left, confers with J. H. Horn, Okanagan co-ordinator, center, and Major General C. R. Stein, provincial co-ordinator.

Mayor thinks civil defence co-ordinator "let down" through lack of gov't policy

"Civil defence here needs a definite federal policy on a survival plan," said Okanagan civil defence co-ordinator, J. H. Horn, in answer to Major General F. F. Worthington's injunction that no punches be pulled, in describing the needs of civil defence locally.

Major General Worthington, federal defence co-ordinator, flew from Ottawa to Vancouver, where he was met by Major General C. R. Stein, provincial co-ordinator, and driven to Kelowna, where he conferred with Mayor J. J. Ladd, Mr. Horn, and representatives of the press, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Lions.

General Worthington arrived late due to the hold-up on Highway 97, and was forced to curtail his visit in Kelowna, in order to make a meeting, slated for Vernon that evening, with civil defence men from many Okanagan points.

FACT-FINDING TOUR

He was blunt in his injunction to

Mr. Horn then said that the big need for local administration was to have a definite policy laid down, so they could adhere to it, and know exactly where they stood in making decisions.

Mayor Ladd heartily concurred with this request, informing the federal co-ordinator of the method in which an auxiliary pumping unit for the city had been turned down by the federal level of civil defence, following its approval by Mr. Horn.

PUMPING UNIT

Mayor Ladd explained the need for the pumping unit in the event of an emergency straining the resources of the city, and General Worthington agreed that the need was there, and would be looked into.

General Stein added his expression of the need for federal policy on the survival plan being handed down to the lower levels, clear-cut and concise in its presentation.

"I am all for civil defence," said Mayor Ladd, "and Mr. Horn and I have done everything in our power to make people conscious of the need for it locally. But I feel that your local co-ordinator was let down by lack of cohesion in policy."

General Worthington said that B.C. had been the leader in setting standards for civil defence in the Dominion, with the policy of being the province down into zones, and regions being successful that it had been emulated on a federal level.

TARGET POINTS

He outlined the need for full understanding of the position of the country as a whole in the event of the atomic-missile warfare, pointing out that cities that were target points would be uninhabitable for periods ranging from an estimated 25-100 years in the "A" zone, close to the blast, and for lesser times, as

"Fog spray" roads in business area

Bernard Avenue and several other streets in the business section may shortly take on a "fog look."

Either members of the fire department or city public works crews will "fog spray" the hard-surfaced roads in an effort to get rid of the dust and sand. Matter was briefly discussed at council meeting this week.

Ald. Dick Parkinson suggested that if fire department members are not available, the city borrow a nozzle from the brigade and that city crews undertake the task.

Colin Coates passes away

Colin Coates, well-known Kelowna resident, died in hospital early this afternoon. Mr. Coates had been in ill-health for some time.

He came to Kelowna many years ago, and took an active interest in community affairs. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

City crews to repair pot holes

With the advent of warm weather, public work crews will now start repairing pot holes in city streets. Ald. Maurice Meikle reported to council this week.

Mr. Meikle said the department had to wait until the holes had dried out. "Work will be done as quickly as possible, and we hope to see a big improvement within the next two weeks."

Referring to this year's paving program, Mr. Meikle said roads that have not been hard-surfaced to date, will have to be dug out, in order to provide a solid foundation. This year's road paving program has not yet been finalized.

Mayor J. J. Ladd commented on the fact that Pender Street is starting to get rough, and he wondered whether it needed a flush coat or a sealer.

Referring to the gravel at the site of hard-surfaced roads, Mr. Meikle said he would like to see the paving extended to sidewalks but that it would be necessary to install storm drains on many streets.

For example, he said paving on Pender Street could be widened eight feet on both sides of the roadway. "But it would cost a lot of money," he said.

Ald. Dick Parkinson suggested using city equipment to push aside the gravel.

Mayor's bridge committee meets with gov't heads

The mayor's bridge committee met on Wednesday with the representatives of the department of highways and the toll bridge authority to iron out several problems which had been created by the bridge approved through the park. Even Jones, deputy minister of highways, and David Gough, local representative of Swan, Wooster and Partners, were the government representatives.

Mr. Gough had been named to serve with Mr. Jones by Premier Bennett here last week. Mr. Bennett at that time referred to discuss the points in detail, saying the matter was purely one for decision by the government representatives.

The Wednesday meeting concluded with the results apparently being satisfactory to both parties. Mayor Ladd commented: "The government representatives were rather tough, but broadly speaking the meeting was a successful one from both view points."

Vandalism in city park

Ald. Dick Parkinson this week decried vandals who deliberately broke one of the light standard bulbs in The City Park. The standards were erected last year, and run along the promenade.

Mr. Parkinson appealed for the public's co-operation in protecting city property. "By not reporting such incidents, they are only hurting themselves," he remarked.

Cost of replacing the light unit and glass was estimated at $40.00.

The annex to the Kelowna General Hospital has been termed a "menace," but it cannot be demolished until provision has been made for a new wing to the hospital. This was pointed out at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Society yesterday following a prolonged discussion on the necessity of an addition to the institution.

If the annex is demolished before a new wing is constructed, 42 patients would be deprived of beds, and there is a daily waiting list of ten to twelve patients, Dr. Don Lim, president of the medical staff, told the meeting. He said children were in contact with older patients and this was not a good situation.

It is estimated that a new wing to the hospital would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

J. I. Monteith and R. P. Walrod, were re-elected president and vice-president respectively.

Main topic of discussion centred around the proposed addition to the institution.

"The menace (annex) must be torn down. But it cannot be torn down until a new wing is finished. We want the support of the community and persons in outside districts," declared Mr. Monteith, after submitting his annual report.

W. E. Adams charged the society is taking a grave responsibility allowing persons to occupy the top floor of the annex.

"If a fire started," he said, "there would be little or no possibility of the persons on the top floor escaping."

The junior hospital auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Ron Prosser, recently toured the annex, and reported the children's rooms were in "dreadful shape." The toilet in the girls' ward was cracked and chipped, and there were no tables or chairs in the room. The boys' room was very dark and the paint is peeling.

Dr. Don Lim said there is a definite need for more beds for acute patients.

"We are looking at the problem from a cost point of view, but we should look at it from a patient's point of view," he remarked.

A recommendation was made that extra help be employed in the annex as there is not sufficient help in the case of fire.

New hospital wing under consideration

Construction of another wing to the Kelowna General Hospital to give a total bed capacity of 225, is currently in the planning stage. This was disclosed by R. P. Walrod, chairman of the building committee at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Society Wednesday afternoon.

Addition to the structure, which would provide a pediatric ward, extension of medical and surgical wards, adequate isolation facilities, and extension of services and staff facilities, would cost in excess of $1,000,000, he said.

Mr. Walrod pointed out that the hospital serves a heavily-populated area which is steadily growing. He admitted that the present hospital annex is unsuitable for accommodation, but said if this structure is to be demolished the logical outcome would be to extend the existing hospital "even if solely for the purpose of building up our bed capacity to its existing 171 beds."

CHRONIC HOSPITAL

By extending accommodation, the board is not closing the door on a chronic hospital project, he said. "In fact we believe it will drop in to true perspective as we develop our planning."

Mr. Walrod said directors visualize the enlarged hospital forming a letter "H." One leg of the "H" is already in existence paralleling Rose Avenue, so too is the cross piece paralleling Pender Street. The other leg has to be built parallel with Strathcona Avenue. "This may not be the answer, but it is our starting point," he remarked.

Salaries paid totalled $603,399. This figure was $29,336 more than the previous year's $574,063. Some of the expenses were offset by donations totalling $3,770.

City must shave $180,000 from estimates in order to strike same mill rate

City Council must shave $180,000 off preliminary estimates in order to bring the 1956 tax levy to last year's figure, Mayor J. J. Ladd stated Monday night. His Worship regretted that some projects will have to be deleted from the 1956 estimates, but that this will be necessary in order to strike a "normal" mill rate.

He pointed out all projects included in the estimates were considered necessary, but unfortunately some work must be curtailed if the tax rate is to remain the same as last year.

A special meeting was held Tuesday night at which time it is understood council members went through the initial "chopping" stage.

Last year, the city budgeted for a total expenditure of $1,297,793.96. Anticipated revenue amounted to $833,943.68, while the amount raised by taxation totalled $1,097,850.38.

Average daily stay in local hospital jumps

In 1955, 4,003 patients spent 51,493 patient days in Kelowna general hospital.

This compares with 4,142 patients spending 51,804 patient days the previous year, a drop of 139 patients and 291 patient days.

Decrease in patients was offset by fact that the average daily stay of adult patients increased from 12.9 days in 1954, to 13.20 days last year. An average of 141 patients were under daily care.

There were 433 births this year, 50 over last year's total, and the number of operations was up by 17 over last year's 2,806.

Deaths within 48 hours of admission remained at 37 the same as last year. Deaths not including those within 48 hours of admission increased by eight over last year's total of 100.

The total operating expenses of the hospital were $601,072, an increase of $27,707 over the 1954 total of $573,365.

Salaries paid totalled $603,399. This figure was $29,336 more than the previous year's $574,063.

Some of the expenses were offset by donations totalling $3,770.

Sign permit refused

Building inspector Art Clark has refused to issue a building permit for the erection of a sign at 541 Bernard Avenue, as it would project approximately one foot from the vehicular portion of the highway.

This was disclosed at council meeting last week. Council stated the owner has the right to appeal to the building appeal board.

Any suggestions on naming new aquatic rooms?

New names for the lounge, dance hall, and dining room in the Kelowna Aquatic Association's face-lifted lake-side plant are being sought with prizes offered to the winners in the contest. Deadline for suggestions is this Saturday, with all applications to be in the mail by Friday midnight.

With the $36,000 renovation job on the plant rushing towards completion, the association has decided they would like to have some peppy, attractive names, along the nautical theme.

Aquatic manager Percy Downton, instigator of the move, will assist the executive of the association in making the final decision.

Press and radio reporters have their say too!

Sid Godber, editor and sometime columnist in the Penticton Herald, has added his Penticton thrust in the word battle raring up and down the Valley as a prelude to the Allan Cup series, in a cutting editorial "According to the Mood," in Monday's Herald.

Referring to the Vernon attitude he says, "Vernon hockey fans must have an inferiority complex, or maybe they've all got ulcers, or perhaps, they're still suffering from that new disease which crept into the valley in the hockey season of '52, '53 called 'Vernitis'."

Referring to Gerry (Vernon News) Reynolds' attempt to prove "to his and to Vernon's satisfaction that the Canadians of 1956 are superior to the Penticton Vees of 1954," he calls the claim "unmitigated nonsense."

NO SHIRT OPPOSITION
Mr. Godber, who covered the Vees from their humble beginnings to the world hockey crown, goes on to state that Vernon has not encountered as stiff opposition this year as the Vees encountered in their Allan Cup year, and throws in his hand with Winnipeg Maroons' coach Bill Jucha in saying that the Vernon team this year lacks that intangible something that makes for greatness.

Jucha expressed it differently, but it added up to the same thing, calling it the desire to win.

In his sports column, Reynolds answered Godber's remarks with a disgruntled "Barumph Well, that's his answer and he's stuck with it." Following a Vernon radio sports commentator, Don Warner, had a good speech, when Kelowna's radio sports commentator Bob Hall, with no credit going to either side, in a brief, one and one-half round skirmish over the odds involved in the Vernon side-tracking of the Chatham team, who had previously been reported to have made arrangements to trade the Orchard City team headquarters.

SANITILIGHT

By GEORGE INGLIS

CURTAIN TIME

Tonight is the curtain time for the final act of this year's play, "The Road to the Allan Cup", and it should also prove to be the start of a rough and tough series, ending in curtains for one team or the other.

Vernon Canadians have worked long and hard getting this far, and have the determination to go the whole way, employing whatever tactics their wily playing mentor, George Agar, sees fit to order up for the occasion.

The last minute news that coach Agar has arranged for Yogi Kraeger, stalwart defence man with Trail Smoke Eaters this year, to fill one breach on the rear guard, shows he is on his toes, and has no stars in his eyes. The defence line needed just that bit of bolstering.

The change makes Vernon even more to be reckoned with, and should put them further into the favorite bracket in the betting. The previous additions of Brian Roche, Packer scoring ace, and Jack MacDonald, Penticton Vees center star, added to guns to the offensive set-up, and Packer's goalie Dave Gatherum as spare goalie gave them the kind of assurance a club should have in this kind of series.

Of course Chatham are not to be reckoned right out of the picture either. They filtered through their league in rather shaky fashion, but picked up in the play-offs due to some rather judicious firing of shiftless players, and equally judicious strengthening, with the CAHA sanction, of course.

And they are not coming out here player-poor, either, since they are packing 19 men and a spare goalie. The CAHA has sanctioned the use of player-affiliates through the Wallaceburg intermediate team, their affiliated team.

There are a few of their players that will be remembered by western fans. Kelownians will remember Bill Chalmers, who played here last year, on his release by New Westminster. He's having a good year with Chatham this year.

Eric Unger may be remembered as a center man with Vancouver a couple of years ago. He was very highly thought of, but he has dropped back to defence now, and seems to be going very well there.

Dick Kotanen, another defence man, did a stint with Trail in the WHL, and with Kamloops in the OSHL, so should be no stranger. He has improved since that time, and is quite a rear guard threat.

Chatham showed in their series with Saint John Beavers that they are quite capable of roughing it up, no holds barred, and Vernon... well it looks to me like those two Quebec referees they say they are getting in should have their work cut out.

All in all, it promises to be quite a series.

NO, NOT YET!

With all the frenzied jockeying for position going on this year to win that Allan Cup, one would almost think there was something much larger at stake—say the possibility of a trip to Europe or something like that.

But I don't think it would be advisable for the winners of the hardware in this rousing series to go out and purchase language dictionaries, or start inuring themselves to cold showers just yet.

No, not yet, as the song goes, because there is a lot of hassling, miles and miles of it, to be surmounted before it is decided by the powers that be in the CAHA whether the Allan Cup winners will be the representatives of Canada in world competition or not. For that matter, we are not even sure if we will have a representative.

Following the last scuffle, when the highly touted Kitchen-Waterloo Dutchmen carried a brightly burning torch over to Europe and brought back a damp squib, words poured over the CAHA headquarters like torrential rain, with suggestions from every corner, some of them quite rude.

Out of the maze of suggestions, and into the light of favor, among some people, was the one that an all-star team be picked six weeks ahead of the time they leave for Europe. Travel this team around Canada; play them against senior "A" teams in different leagues, and then send them over to be true reps of the hockey picture here, keyed up to give their best, and permit us to raise our heads proudly in the ice arenas of the world again, the critics say.

The cost? Plenty! Agreed, but if it isn't worth something to elevate us back to the position of hockey champs of the world decisively, let's just call it a day altogether, and crawl into a hole. Maybe we could start boasting about our lacrosse supremacy then, except for the fact there are a lot of good teams south of the border.

LACROSSE NOT DEAD

Some people may be writing lacrosse off the Okanagan picture after hearing about the senior league folding, but they will be in for a surprise, since the minor lacrosse is going to have an unprecedented boom this year, and should provide plenty of action for fans.

Kelowna, the only city able to field a senior team this year, has been the leaders in this movement, and the other cities have heartily endorsed it. The service clubs in Kelowna showed their enthusiasm toward the plan by their attendance at the recent meeting to outline the plans for the minor set-up.

There is an excellent coaching staff available from the boys in the senior category, and the equipment problem is partially licked with what they have on hand, so it looks like most of the help they need from the service clubs is in the form of man power to aid with the administration of the young put-stick men.

This commendable plan will not only keep lacrosse alive in the Valley, but it will give it the life that comes from deep down. Sports promoters since time eternal have done everything in their power to get the kids interested in any sport they were trying to foster, and the success of the sport could be measured in their success in getting the kids into the act.

'SPURS AWAY

There is a bit of trouble yet, trying to get those modest soccer ball boosters to tell of their conquests, but it is in the process of being cleared up, with the able help of Murray Mackie, secretary in the interior association.

It looks like the Hotspurs, Kelowna's senior football team, are away to a good start, however, with one win and one tie under their belt so far, putting them on top of the league in points.

Their big test will come this Sunday, when they meet those Queen's Park Rangers from Penticton, the boys who have maintained soccer supremacy in the Valley for longer than most teams care to remember.

The 'Spurs came very close to challenging them last year, but this year they hope to give them a desperate run for their money. So far, Penticton has only played one and won it, but they had to postpone one, so this week's encounter with Kelowna may tell which way the wind is going to blow this fall of the season.

JIM BOND'S GREATEST TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION

Fighting Kamloops Trout from Land of Sky Blue Water

Allan Frisby, left, Vernon District Game Warden, and George Stringer, Regional Fisheries Biologist, Kelowna, are "Important Actors" in Jim Bond's widely acclaimed kodachrome production, "Fishing Across Canada". "To be sure", commented Jim Bond, "there's many a laugh in the film as well as some spectacular fishing. George and Al ought to be in Hollywood."

IT'S THE VIVID AND SPECTACULAR

"COLOR CAMERA COUNTRY"

Robert Brown, writing in the Salem Capital Journal, said: "You'll not see this kind of show anywhere, and TV can't compete with Jim Bond's brilliant color photography."

JIM BOND IN PERSON

THREE GREAT ADVENTURE FILMS

1. 'Fishing Across Canada'

Canada's finest fishing—From the Atlantic to the Pacific—Spectacular camera action shots—Giant Bluefin tuna, pike, walleye, northern lake trout, Kamloops, Rainbow, savage silver salmon—Giant of fresh and salt water—Giants that "Put The Big Bend" in fine rods—The whole family will enjoy this film.

2. 'The Happy Hunting Ground'

"The finest big game hunting picture ever made" — say thousands who saw this picture. Produced by Jim Bond in the vast Outback of the Upper Yukon. You'll see six mad bull moose threaten Jim Bond; you'll see enraged grizzly bear growl at the veteran hunter; you'll see stately and magnificent caribou in all their glory, and you'll see white mountain sheep at home in the rugged Alps of the north. You'll see ALL THIS AND MORE in this widely acclaimed "color spectacle" ... Truly a thrilling picture for the entire family ... Don't miss it ...

3. 'Blow the Wild Whale'

Amazing, vividly filmed action pictures of modern-day whaling. Photographed on the broad Pacific, this suspense-packed film shows the stalking of the great beasts, the harpooning, the terrific fight, and finally the processing of the whales. This picture will really open your eyes.

No fish ladder at McIntyre dam planned in 1956

PENTICTON — There will be no fish ladder for the present at McIntyre Dam, south of Vancouver Lake.

This became apparent at the Interior Zone Fish, Game and Forest Protection Association convention when the committee set up to study the matter was discharged from further duties.

W. D. Haddleton, president of the Penticton Game Club, said that neither the department here nor the authorities in the State of Washington favored the establishment of the ladder.

He told of films being taken at the site showing thousands of salmon, battling themselves against the wall. "I don't know how many were killed," he added, "but it was a painful sight."

Bill Keller of the Oliver club voiced an objection because of the publicity that came from the Penticton press and radio.

"We still feel after extensive study that the way the salmon run is now being handled is the best advantage of sportsmen," he said.

New sales manager

The new sales manager for Victory Motors in Kelowna should prove to be an asset to the community, being an ardent curler, and active community man, his interests in Penticton including presidency of the Peach Festival and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Thomas Walker, the new member of the Victory Motors staff, was born in Winnipeg in 1913, and started in the motor car business with Breen Motors, and Carter-Latter Motors in that city. Moving to Vancouver in 1940, he served with the DCOR reserves during the war, and worked in the life insurance and retail fields, not returning to the auto business until 1952, when he moved to Penticton and started with Grove Motors.

Married in 1938, to the former Edythe James, well-known in Kelowna, Mr. Walker has one daughter, Janice, age 12. Mr. Walker skipped the rink that won the "B" event in Penticton's last bonspiel.

Founder of B.C. society of CARS will speak here

Main item on the agenda of the last meeting of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society was the impending visit of Miss Mary Pack, executive secretary and founder of B.C. CARS.

It was decided to postpone the Arthritis forum until a later date, and as Miss Pack will be speaking at a luncheon as well as a dinner meeting on May 11, there will not be the usual open meeting. Saturday, May 12 will be taken up with visits to home and clinic patients. President W. O. Clark said that the complete two-day program will be worked out shortly with Mrs. H. Van Ackeren, president of the W.A. and Miss June Williams, branch physiotherapist.

Miss Williams' report for March read as follows: Total number of treatments, 251; clinic, 156; home, 87; and eight visits. There were seven new patients, and five discharged. A total of $101.00 received as treatment donations, and the Bluebird car travelled 44 miles.

Mrs. Van Ackeren reported on the many activities of the W.A. and of the recent welcome gift of $100.00 from the Kelowna Lions Club.

Mr. J. W. Trewhitt gave an interesting report of the annual provincial meeting of CARS held in Vancouver, March 14-15, and said that she hoped that each member would at some time have the same opportunity. She was chosen, with the delegates from Kamloops and Prince George, to serve on an informative panel which would help other branches in their work. She was asked by Miss Pack to thank the press and radio in Kelowna for their cooperation in the past year.

Mr. Clark thanked Mrs. Trewhitt for acting as alternate delegate when none of the others were able to attend at the last moment.

C. R. Bull, chairman of the CARS campaign in the rural areas, which begins May 1, stated that the objective stood at $750.00 again this year, and was confident that it would be achieved.

Following a recent visit in Vancouver, Mr. Bull stated that Miss Pack had once again emphasized the need for more support urging a department of physical therapy be established at UBC at the earliest possible moment. The shortage of physio is critical, and until such time as training facilities for the three-year course are established in our own province, will continue, threatening not only further expansion of services, but maintenance of present facilities. Organizations were urged to continue writing the university board, Dean Weaver, faculty of medicine at UBC, and Education Minister Williamson.

Next meeting of the CARS will be held May 9 at the Health Centre at 7:30 p.m.

If what we do comes from the heart, Just have to give, bestow, impart. That indicates we're on our way. To greater happiness each day. For when we do some kindly deed, Are helping those we find in need, So off in life we'll be repaid, Before we're through in giving aid.

Maroons' line-up confusing

The Chatham Maroons' line-up for tonight, in the Allan Cup opener against Vernon Canadians, is still up in the air, since the wire to Vernon presant showed 10 players plus a spare goalie, instead of the 15 permitted under the CAHA rules. Clarification on this point is expected before game time, according to BCCHA convener, Dr. M. J. Butler, of Kelowna.

A late flash from the CAHA informed Dr. M. J. Butler that the Chatham team was carrying the extra players mentioned in their line-up, due to the permissibility of using Wallaceburg intermediate players. Chatham Maroons affiliated club.

Two of the men shown in the line-up, Bill Flick and Lou Bendo, were re-inforcements brought up to the Chatham team in the series against Saint John Beavers, following a first-game defeat for Maroons. Ernie Dick, shown on the list also, is the player benched to permit use of Flick.

Two players should be known to Kelowna fans, Bill "Chick" Chalmers, who played for Kelowna Packers last year, and Dick Kotanen, who played with Trail and Kamloops, before going down east.

Here is the line-up as received by Mr. Castonguay:

Marv Edwards—Goalie on two Memorial Cup winners, Barrie, Ont., and St. Catharines, Ont. is a native of Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

Doug Baldwin, team captain and veteran ace defence—with Quebec Aces the year they won the Allan Cup. Pro with Toronto Maple Leafs, Pittsburgh and Kansas City.

Dick Kotanen, defence. A native of Port Arthur, has played with Windsor and Chatham the past two years, following a stint with Trail and Kamloops in western Canada.

Marv Zorica, defence. Born in Vancouver and now a resident of Sarnia, Ont., he played junior in Windsor, senior in Sarnia and Chatham. One year he went to Wallaceburg Hornets in senior "B" company, as playing-coach, coming back to Chatham this year.

Danny Blair, defence. Born in South Porcupine, Ont., played junior with Guelph for three years, during which time they captured the Memorial Cup. He has been with Chatham for three years.

Bill Flick, forward. A native of Guelph, played junior in Kitchener, and has played four years in senior "A" with the Stratford Indians, coming to Chatham as a replacement in play-off time.

Ernie Dick, forward. A native of New Hamburg, Ont., has played with the IHL, Milwaukee Brewers, and six years with Chatham.

Eddie Busch, forward. Toronto boy, formerly from Regina. He played junior with Windsor, and played pro in Springfield, Cleveland, and New Haven. Came to Chatham this year.

Graham Joyce, forward. Another Toronto boy, put in junior time with Kitchener, and played with Toledo of the IHL, before coming to Chatham this year.

"Bunny" Heistad, forward. Played his junior hockey in Galt and Guelph. Started out this season in Wallaceburg, then came to Chatham for remainder of year.

Lou Bendo, forward. Born in Timmins, Ont., and played junior with Toronto Marlboros, going senior "A" with the Stratford Indians. Came to Chatham as a replacement this year in play-offs.

Ted Power, forward. Native of Halifax, played junior in Ottawa and St. Catharines, and pro with Quebec Aces, Syracuse, N.Y., and Three Rivers, Que. Played MAHA with Charlottetown, PEI, and did a stint with Vancouver, in the WHL.

Jimmy Connelly, forward. Another South Porcupine native, played junior with Guelph the year they won the Memorial Cup. With Chatham this year.

Bill "Chick" Chalmers, forward. Played junior in Guelph and Galt, and came to Kelowna Packers last season from New Westminster, going to Chatham this season.

Elec Unger, forward, turned defence. Born in St. Catharines, played with Niagara in senior "A", turned pro with Vancouver and Springfield. Toured Europe two years ago with the North York Lynx.

Lloyd Ferguson, forward. Hamilton's hockey man, and has played senior "A" with Hamilton, Stratford, Niagara and Chatham, as well as doing a stint with Winnipeg in the Western League.

Alex Viskicis, forward. Montreal, of Lithuanian parents, junior in Montreal and Waterloo, Ont., senior this year with Chatham.

Dick Pitkowski, spare goalie— from Kitchener, played with Oshawa, Waterloo, Windsor and Chatham for three years. Went down to "D" company with Wallaceburg, then back to Chatham.

Tommy Jacques, trainer. With Chatham when arena opened in 1949, was a member of the Maroons when they won the IHL championship, and the eastern USAHA championships. Born in England, he played a lot of his hockey in Windsor.

Coach, Monte Chamberlain, is known to Okanagan fans, from his first trip out to western Canada, and is known to be a shrewd and colorful coach.

COBALT BOMB USEFUL
The cobalt bomb which was developed by Canadian scientists is proving to be a most useful tool in the radiation treatment of small deep-seated cancers, officials of the Canadian Cancer Society announced.

The Society provides money for further experimentation with the cobalt unit and for the training of radiologists to use it.

Cancer causes the death of more children between the ages of 5 and 14 than any other disease.

Kaycees will hold banquet end of month

Some time between now and May 20, the Knights of Columbus Order will exceed the one million mark in membership.

In keeping with this occasion—which is considered one of the most important events since this fraternal benefit society for Catholic laymen was formed in 1882—the Father Pendozi Council of Kelowna has arranged a large initiation for Sunday, April 29.

Similarly, other councils of the more than 3400 that are functioning in our continental North America are in the throes of major membership drives. All the initiation groups will be known as the "Millionth Member Class."

Virtually all day Sunday, April 29, will be taken up in Kelowna as the first, second and third degrees are exemplified for around 30 candidates. The day-long rituals will conclude with a grand banquet, which in itself will be somewhat of a milestone in Kelowna.

INITIATION BANQUET
The initiation banquet will be the first large-scale supper sponsored by any organization in the newly-enlarged and completely re-named Aquatic Pavilion. Official opening for this ambitious Aquatic reconstruction job is set for Saturday, April 29. The Knights of Columbus banquet comes the following evening.

Plans are being made to seat from 250 to 300 Knights and their wives at the banquet. Many of the Knights will be from Trail, Nelson, Penticton and Kamloops.

Main speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Joseph Vingo of Nelson, who is the present state deputy chief officer for B.C. The chairman of the banquet will be Albert E. Davis of Kelowna.

Submits estimates on new sidewalks

Works superintendent H. M. True-man submitted to council this week estimates on constructing sidewalks for a sidewalk and curb on the north in the new south Pendozi housing and south side of Francis from Pendozi to Abbott, $5,450.

Cost of a five foot sidewalk on the south side of Birch from Pendozi to Abbott street, will be $2,340; cost of a sidewalk on the east side of Taylor Crescent from Francis to Birch avenue will be $1,060; and estimates on constructing sidewalks for a sidewalk and curb on the north in the new south Pendozi housing and south side of Francis from Pendozi to Abbott, $5,450.

Dr. Knox IODE chapter fashion show "best ever" presented to local audience

Easily voted the best fashion show ever to be seen in Kelowna, First United Church hall was crammed for last night's fashion parade, which was the eighth annual event of its kind sponsored by Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter IODE. Not only was the main floor crowded so that spectators during the tea hour had difficulty in making their way through; but the galleries on three sides of the hall were lined with spectators during the parade. As the parade progressed, anticipation mounted, for the fashions modeled were lovely—as well as different—it might be added, too, that the models were as lovely as the fashions!

Welcoming the guests was IODE Vice-President Mrs. C. Pettman, who also introduced those taking leading parts. Convening was Mrs. R. T. Walrod, assisted by Mrs. Pettman and Mrs. A. B. Clark. Pianist was Mrs. Frances Reade, who also played for Mary Pratt's pupils who gave a group of delightful dances during the intermission.

In opening the fashion parade, Mrs. J. W. Logie introduced Mrs. Geoffrey Holloway, of "Georgian House" charm school in Vancouver. Selected by Liberty magazine as one of Canada's ten best-dressed women, Mrs. Holloway is from England, where she modeled for such famous houses as these of Harrell, Worth, Paquin and Hardy Amies. A detailed account of the style modeled last night will appear in Monday's Courier. Following the show tea was served by IODE members, when the draw for the door prize was made. This prize was won by Mrs. Anne McLymont, of Okanagan Mission.

Very much thought and care goes into this annual event, and members of Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter, IODE, are to be congratulated in again bringing off a highly successful fashion show.

Visiting here and at coast

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. E. P. Neilly, 891 Glenn Avenue, were her daughter, Mrs. H. Ferris, of Vancouver, who was accompanied by her two daughters. While here Mrs. Ferris, her mother and her daughters motored to Kamloops to visit her brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neilly.

Returning to the coast, Mrs. Neilly accompanied her daughter, where she visited other members of her family. Leaving the coast city by car Mrs. Neilly with two of her sisters made a four day trip to Soap Lake, Wash., and returned home to Kelowna this week.

Hither and Yon

LEAVES FOR ENGLAND . . . Mrs. E. Hinder of 722 Bernard Ave., leaves Kelowna tomorrow for Montreal, from which port she will sail on April 25 aboard the "Ascomia" for England, where she will spend the next four months visiting sisters, brothers and friends.

BACK FROM VANCOUVER . . . is Alan Kelly, who spent the weekend at his home there.

VISITED DISNEYLAND . . . Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fillmore and family returned home last Sunday from a holiday spent in California. Traveling as far south as Indio, near Palm Springs, they visited the fabulous Disneyland, which is 40 miles south of Los Angeles.

First United church scene of nuptials

Rev. R. S. Leitch officiated at the ceremony that united in marriage Maryann Edith, second daughter of Mrs. Virginia Wilkman, 554 Harvey Avenue, and Kenneth John, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hardy, RR 3, Kelowna. The rites were solemnized in First United Church, Kelowna, on April 4, at 2:30 p.m.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William King, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white satin with net overskirt, fitted bolero, with which she wore a finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Duanna Wilkman, in a pale blue dress of net over a-fata, with bolero, and carrying a bouquet of daffodils.

Mr. Ron Hatt was groomsmen and ushering were Mr. Norman Hardy and Mr. Dave Ross. Mr. J. C. Hardy, the groom's uncle, was soloist, and during the signing of the register sang, "Because You're Mine."

SIXTY GUESTS . . . Sixty guests attended the reception following the ceremony and held in the Jean Fuller Hall, where the bride's mother and the groom's parents assisted in receiving. Mrs. Wilkman chose a navy blue dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Hardy wore matching dress and hat in light blue.

Mrs. C. Stuart proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Servitors were Miss Lorraine Ochs, Miss Louise Hecho and Miss Jean Hecho. The three-tiered wedding-cake centred the bride's table, and flanking the cake were two low bowls of red and white petals.

For the wedding trip by car to U.S. points the bride changed to a grey suit with white accessories and topped with a turquoise coat. A corsage of red roses completed her ensemble. Following the week's honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Hardy are taking up residence at Barriere.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's maternal grandfather, Mr. T. H. Sloan, of Kinuso, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. King, of Royalties, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hardy, Walla Walla, Wash.; the bride's uncle and aunt from Princeton, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham; Mrs. E. Graham, also of Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. G. Blewett and Mrs. Ivar Nilson, of Summerland.

Double-ring wedding rites performed here

First United Church manse in Kelowna was the scene of a double-ring wedding ceremony last Tuesday morning when Joyce Lorraine Cummings became the bride of Donald Robert Downing, Rev. R. S. Leitch conducting the service.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Cummings, of Okanagan Mission, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Downing, of Portland, Oregon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for the occasion an afternoon dress in royal blue, featuring a winged collar and bouffant skirt. With it she wore pastel pink accessories, and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and white carnations and a yellow lace. For "something old" she wore an heirloom pearl pin belonging to her mother.

WEDDING LUNCHEON . . . Bride's attendant was Miss Beverly Jean Downing, who wore a pink frock with dove-white accessories and carried a Colonial nosegay of spring flowers.

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was held at the home of the bride's parents, at Okanagan Mission. Mrs. Cummings chose a rose silk sheath-dress, with a bolero jacket and accessories in tone. Mrs. Downing wore a navy dress with white accessories, and both had identical corsages of white carnations and blue iris.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Downing left by motor for a honeymoon trip to Spokane, Wash. The bride's going-away suit of the Hunting MacKinnon tartan was complemented by panama-toned accessories and a gardenia corsage. They will reside in Klamath Falls, Oregon.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Downing, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. D. W. Hamilton and sons, Douglas and Kenneth, of Spokane; Mrs. W. S. Turner, South Burnaby and Miss Christine Wheelhouse, also of South Burnaby, B.C.

Two Kelowna women attend WCTU parley

Two Kelowna women, Mrs. C. R. Walrod and Mrs. A. Matheson, attended the 46th annual convention of the Kamloops-Okanagan District WCTU held in Summerland April 11 and 12, when ten delegates were represented by 45 delegates. Slides and movies on alcohol education, approved by the department of education were shown, there being suitable for schools and church groups. Mrs. W. Crawford, who showed these pictures, visited schools, churches, children's and women's groups during the year, teaching the facts concerning alcohol.

Mrs. Crawford, with Mrs. Pallet and Mrs. Herbert, of Vernon, will attend the world's WCTU convention in Bremen, Germany, next month, when 50 countries will be represented.

On Wednesday evening a district medal contest was held, with Garth Corbett of Winfield winning a silver medal, and Shirley Lapan of Penitence, winning the gold medal.

"Collector's Choice" will remain on display at library until end of month

"Collector's Choice", the current exhibition appearing in the board, and other rooms at the library, will remain until April 30. This is an important exhibition which should not be missed by anyone interested in the arts; containing, as it does, over thirty original paintings loaned by their owners. All of the artists live in western Canada, and the artists are all Canadians.

Persons seeing this show will not necessarily like every painting, but almost every one has been done by an authority in his own line of work. On the other hand there will be some paintings to please each person who visits the library, for the reason that the show is a cross-section of the styles employed during the past hundred years in Canada and on the continent.

CANADIAN LIFE . . . The paintings range in subject from Krieghoff's minutely-painted figures whose faces resemble miniature work, to Paul-Emile Borduas' totally non-representational study entitled, "Metropole Minerale."

Probably the most valuable painting intrinsically is Krieghoff's "Toll Gate," both as a record of Canadian life and because of the painter's warm love for humanity, and for every detail of the activities of simple folk.

Emily Carr's painting of totem poles, on the other hand, has the aloof power of these symbolic canoes, like great statues in the dark-green forest.

There are several pleasant paintings, like Cullen's "The City from Fletcher's Field," which speak for themselves, directly, to the people. Two of the Group of Seven are represented; a fine portrait by Varley, and a painting called, "Sunach Pattern" by Lismer which shows this artist's beautiful brushwork. Every stroke is sensitive and alive with nervous energy.

FRESH APPROACH . . . David Milne's "Threshed Yesterday" is another painting that speaks in every line. With its fresh vitality in every line, with its fresh delightful approach it seems to invite the spectator to come out and sketch too. Hennessy's "Crows in Spring" is another painting that appears to have been done with great joy in the play of light over fields.

Mabel May's work shows consummate skill in the handling of paint, and of the planes in her landscape. By contrast "City Mon-

Conquer cancer campaign now underway

The Conquer Cancer campaign is now in full swing in Kelowna and district, according to campaign chairman, R. J. Marshall. Minimum objective is $4,000.

Several districts delayed canvassing until the middle of the month, and team captains now report that response to date has been good, and they are confident they will reach their quotas.

One district has already gone over the top. Mr. Marshall hopes the drive will be completed by April 25. "Call-backs" are the greatest obstacle encountered to date, he said. This places an unnecessary load on the volunteer canvassers.

As a token of appreciation the retiring president, Mrs. J. Mann was presented with a bouquet of flowers and a small gift.

City needs grass sod for park

Work on constructing a new road through the city park has been held up due to road restrictions, Ald. Dick Parkinson informed city council this week.

Load restrictions were removed last Monday, and gravel hauling is again underway.

Mr. Parkinson said resodding of the grass oval is going to be a slow job, and added that he had been able to obtain a sod-cutter from Vancouver.

"The city could use any grass sod available," he said, adding that if any local residents have sod, it would be appreciated. It was suggested the engineer's department should be contacted.

WATER SYSTEM
Council also gave the parks committee permission to haul top soil from around three acres of land at the civic airport at Ellison. Top soil would be used for replanting areas in the park.

Mr. Parkinson said the new areas would have to be seeded as soon as possible in order to get a good catch this spring. Soil will be hauled as soon as an underground water system is installed in the park. Council approved an expenditure of $2500 for the top soil.

LIBRARY INFORMATION
Lloyd Williams, of Tadanac, has requested city council in information regarding the operation of the regional library. Mr. Williams indicated a similar library is planned in Trail.

AUTO COURT LICENCE
Hilda Mary McKay and Joseph McKay, have been granted a trade licence by council covering the operation of the Rainbow Auto Court at 1810 Vernon Road.

APPROVE SUBDIVISION
Proposed plans for subdividing the McLaren property on Pendest St. were approved by council this week. Provision will be made for four lots. Plans also call for line service.

Rudy Kitch, who has carried the club almost single-handed for the past few years will fill the vice-president's post.

380,000 boxes now on hand

Although movement of apples to Canadian markets has been light during the past week, B.C. Tree Fruits has reduced 1955 crop holdings to 380,000 boxes, around 80,000 boxes more than on hand at the same date last year.

Total apple holdings in the U.S. were 320 cars more than at the same date last year. Heavy holdings are in the state of Washington where there are 1200 carloads more on hand than in April, 1955. This surplus is made up of 1000 cars of Red Delicious and 200 cars of regu-lar Delicious. Winesap holdings are about the same as last year.

Movement of Washington apples has exceeded last year's rate during recent weeks, but with the surplus Delicious and Red Delicious on hand, there seems to be little likelihood of any price advance until later in the season.

The last car of Red Delicious to U.S. markets will move today. Tree Fruits is also shipping Winesaps and Newtowns and some Staymans to U.S. markets.

REMOVE RESTRICTIONS
Restrictions on load limits on all city roads were removed effective at midnight Monday. Cancelling of the temporary order was approved by council Monday.

Plan to rush construction of grandstand

City plans to rush the construction of the extension to the grandstand in the City Park in order that it will be ready for summer activities.

City council this week decided that instead of advertising for tenders, individual letters will be sent to contractors, calling for a speed meeting. Details of the proposed structure will be outlined, and they will be asked to submit tenders within a few days after the meeting is held.

Regatta meeting postponed due to puck finals

Next general meeting of the Regatta committee will bow to the Allan Cup fever, that is taking hold of the Okanagan for the next little while. Committee has decided to postpone the next meeting until Friday, April 27.

All committees have reported good success so far, with the publicity committee far in advance of any previous year's accomplishments.

The possibility of the Powell River Pipe Band attending the Regatta in this Golden Jubilee Year is almost a certainty, according to reports, and negotiations are under way for the services of the RCAF band from Edmonton.

PAVING REQUESTED
City council, in a letter received this week from C. Innes, has been requested to pave Cambridge Avenue, under the 1956 hard-paving program. He said residents are petitioning for a boulevard curb and sidewalk on the north side of the road. Matter was referred to estimate.

Good luck, Canadians!

Tonight Vernon Canadians commence their final campaign in the Allan Cup war and the hockey fans in the Central Okanagan are pulling for them to bring a second Allan Cup title to the Okanagan.

This final series is something of an enigma because there has been to date little on which the two teams could be compared. The fact that Chatham was the strong OHA senior group and went on to win the eastern title indicates that it must be a powerful aggregation, but this impression is shaken somewhat when it is realized that the roster carries at least two players who couldn't quite make the grade in British Columbia. Vernon is a strong, well-balanced team and Kelowna fans who have always had a friendly feeling for the northern team, will be very disappointed if it fails to make the series a long and tough one.

The road north tonight and Saturday will be crowded with Kelowna fans hurrying to give their vocal support to the western champions. These travellers will be but the tangible evidence of the good wishes the entire Central Okanagan will be sending north to Vernon.

Good Luck, Canadians!

Successful season

The Kelowna Little Theatre on Monday wrote finis to a very successful season during which it had four public presentations. Since its formation here the group has made for itself a very solid place in the community. It has won a host of friends through its plays which invariably have been well presented and entertaining; the public has been given its money's worth. But perhaps even more important, the Little Theatre has provided an outlet for the talents of several score people. Some acting and directing ability of a surprisingly high calibre has been unearthed, but also several score persons have demonstrated ability in many ways. These persons do not appear before the public but they provide the wheels which make the publicly-presented vehicle function smoothly. Scenery, properties, lighting and other tasks each plays its part and each must be adequately handled to make a perfect whole on the stage. Another point for which the group must be given credit is the fact that it stands on its own feet. It is aggressive and progressive but it looks to no one for assistance. Kelowna Little Theatre is an organization of which this city can be proud. It has been made so by both those who strut the stage and those who do the less publicized tasks behind the scenes.

Kelowna to have competition

The Kelowna regatta now quite rightfully boasts it is "Canada's greatest water show." Its claim to the title was acknowledged a couple of years ago by F. Duthie, sports director of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, which rightfully calls its self the world's greatest annual exhibition.

Mr. Duthie was an enthusiastic visitor here and the results of his visit are now beginning to appear: the CNE is out to improve its watershow. The first step has been to drop the marathon swim from its program. The CNE has found that the Lake Ontario swim does not pay off at the box office and has little spectator appeal. It has decided that long distance swims are inhuman and senseless and because it is nearly all done without an audience, it really isn't an exhibit at all.

The CNE feels that it can use the $15,000 or more the swim costs each year to better advantage than a gamble on the elements. It proposes to improve its now primitive water front accommodations and to stage a two-week watershow at "Ex" time and a summer-long series of short-range events. In other words, water-wise, it is copying the Kelowna Aquatic summer program, complete with aquacades and regatta.

Commenting on the plan, the Toronto Globe and Mail says: "For all its many attractions, the CNE is in a rut. A refurbished waterfront, with water sports given the prominence they deserve and presented in surroundings the public appreciates, might be one of the tonics it needs." Mr. Duthie's visit to Kelowna would seem to be paying off.

Prancing prosperity

"Well, you couldn't listen to that speech without being optimistic." Those were the words used by a local businessman, certainly not known for his Soered leanings, who had just listened to Premier Bennett's address to the broad of trade.

Mr. Bennett had outlined British Columbia's multi-million dollar industrial boom and the businessman put into words the general reaction of the two hundred-odd members of the audience. The man in the street interprets the last few years' development in terms of more jobs and more spending power. However to businessmen the world over it represents business opportunity and it is this which has brought millions of investment dollars pouring into this province from the rest of Canada and the United States, creating new industries and new communities.

But, as Mr. Bennett pointed out, interest in British Columbia is not confined to Canada and the United States; it has spread beyond this continent. Britain has always been interested in Canadian investments but we in British Columbia have not been fully aware that money has also been forthcoming from Germany (steel pipe mill), Italy (asbestos plant), France (cement plant), Switzerland, Belgium and other lands. The foreign businessman with funds to put to work, is naturally attracted to a part of the world where power is becoming available in ever increasing quantities, where tidewater facilities are often close at hand, where population is growing and potentialities have no visible limits.

These are factors in the background of what the Financial Post calls the "prancing prosperity" of British Columbia. As evidence of the province's spirited gait, the Toronto financial journal notes the following in progress or planned: $220 million pulp and paper plant expansion; $152 million gas pipeline under way; record exploration and development of gas and oil in the Peace River; huge impetus in prospecting; $100 million road and railway program; $55 million Kitimat expansion; $15 million expenditure on two major chemical plants.

These of course are only the major features. There are many smaller developments and many secondary industries will spring up as a result of the larger enterprises. For instance, as a result of the gas pipeline an extraction plant will be erected at Fort St. John which will supply sulphur for the province as well as quantities of gasoline, butane and propane, and diesel oils.

The current expansion is spectacular but the forecast suggests that the future will be even more so. It is estimated the population will double in twenty years. The use of electricity is expected to double in six years. Eight companies now plan to spend more than $216 million in the next five years in expanding pulp and paper plants. Power, minerals, petroleum, forest industries all look for considerable expansion. Few areas of the world have ever known such concentrated and rapid development of such a varied assortment of basic industries.

residential area, why are huge real estate sign boards allowed in the same area. Surely the excuse of a "temporary sign" cannot be condoned when they are "on site" for more than six months. Perhaps the neighbours admire their beauty, and the passing motorist, who look at them, so they are not classified as traffic hazards.

Are realtors in a different category to other people, and are their sign boards more beneficial to the community (not the city) than those of churches, hospitals, schools, colleges, or clubs?

My sign, which had some cultural value, advertised an accordion school, and was taken down. Other signs which advertise mercenary values are still up and are being added to. Evidently the Kelowna "goose and gander" get different menus.

Yours sincerely,
CYRIL H. TAYLOR.

Kelowna junior band members in all-out drive to obtain additional money to pay for new uniforms

By JEAN MCGREGOR

Here we are with a few more notes from your Kelowna Junior Band. Of course our parents know what we are doing in the band, but we make sure of that, but we know that there are many of you who once had young folks in the band, and we just feel sure that you are still interested in us.

We are thinking of many of you as we write, as well as the future band members who will take our places in the years to come. During the past six years in which the band has been in operation, we have had a grand group of people behind us known as the "Band Parents Association." It is their aim to bring all parents, past, present, and future, as well as many interested friends into the auxiliary.

At the annual meeting the following slate of officers was elected: president, Mrs. V. Haller; first vice-president, Mrs. L. R. Kelly; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Stephens; secretary, Mrs. J. Steward; treasurer, Mrs. A. Warren; recording secretary, Mrs. George Flintoff; and an executive committee, consisting of six members, whose duty it shall be to assist the executive.

The band is pleased to report that they now have $2,000 of the necessary $4,500 required to fit us out in new uniforms. We are feeling much encouraged! Of course it means quite a bit of work, but then it will be worth it all to be adequately uniformed. The band has long been organized for the bottle drives. Mr. Rose and some of the business men got their heads together with the result that this same organization was put to use in delivering sales flyers etc. We are well organized under adult leaders to give good coverage of the territory and as we prove ourselves faithful to the job, it is of mutual benefit to the band and the business concerns for which we deliver. Along with the business flyers we have also delivered pamphlets for the Red Cross and Boy Scouts.

Our uniforms are ordered and we will have them to wear to the B.C. Band Conference on April 27th and 28th at Victoria. We will be away four days, and as most of the band students have never been to Vancouver Island, we are looking forward to the trip. At the conference we must attend classes on our individual instruments, and hear lectures from several professors and teachers of music. Each band plays several times, both in the massed band and alone.

The conference two years ago was held in New Westminster. We learned many things there, and hope to from this one. When we see other school bands from all over the province we cannot help but make comparisons amongst ourselves, some-

The so-called nations of the Middle East are snarling at each other. Once more we hear about a flurry of threats, charges, counter-charges and conferences.

The whole affair has a drearily familiar sound. The spokesmen of those small, moth-eaten countries are like a number of ham actors reciting lines from an old, dull play.

And yet we are forced to pay attention to that creaking melodrama. Whether we like it or not, we are involved in the course of events.

Exactly the same kind of quarrel between pygmies in the past has embroiled the giants, and caused a general war.

No doubt there are a number of good people in both the Arab and Israeli camps. No doubt there is some right on both sides.

But the time has come for common people everywhere to demand that these disputes be squelched or isolated.

There is no reason on earth why the messy little squabbles of a few ragamuffin desert states should be allowed to imperil the lives of millions and perhaps civilization itself.

The United Nations now has the chance to show its worth. Is it a true instrument of peaceful cooperation, or just a glib propaganda forum?

Justice should be done to both sides in these quarrels, if possible. But we would far rather see a small number of Arabs, or Israelis, times to our good and sometimes—well, we just decide we had better work a little harder.

pride, than expose the world to the risk of atomic war.

Wars sneak up on us. Have you ever heard of the declaration of war being decided by plebiscite? And yet if the people both sides of the Iron Curtain could make it clear to their representatives that they wanted peace, they would get their wish.

We never know what the Communists will do. But we can play our part by making sure that not so much as one rifle or one grenade goes to the danger zone from Canada.

I feel sure that 95 per cent of the people in every country would like to see the parties to the Middle Eastern argument lifted by the scruffs of their puppy little necks and thrown into the nearest dunghill, with instructions to behave or be stamped on.

The 1956 objective of the Canadian Cancer Campaign is $2,100,000. More money will be spent on research than ever before.

SECHALT, B.C. (CP) — The Sechalt Board of Trade, which built the fine hall in this municipality 30 miles northwest of Vancouver, has turned the hall over to a new municipal council.

Sprinkle of Seed Brings A Rainbow of Flowers

Planting plan for combined border and cutting garden of 12 annual flowers.

All the colors of the rainbow, with fragrance besides, can be grown in a combined border and cutting garden from a dozen packets of flower seed.

Shown in a sunny area of the home grounds, this planting will serve the double purpose of making a garden display, and providing a wealth of cut flowers for the house all summer long.

These flowers bloom so freely that you may cut dozens of blossoms daily without noticeable effect upon the garden display, and providing a wealth of cut flowers for the house all summer long.

All the colors of the rainbow are included in this array, and there will be fragrance besides, due in large part to No. 1, nicotiana affinis, the sweet tobacco.

Its white trumpet flowers are delightfully perfumed, and are especially enjoyable at twilight.

No. 2, calliopsis, is the annual form of coreopsis, and has the same daisy-like flowers; but a far greater variety of color. Colors include various tones of yellow, orange, maroon and crimson with many two-tone combinations. No. 3, annual larkspur, is the annual delphinium, rich in true pinks, dark blues, and white. No. 4, Cleome, is the spider-plant, growing four feet tall, bearing pink flowers.

Scabiosa, No. 5, is one of the loveliest of cut flowers in spite of its unpleasant Latin name, though its popular title of "mourning bride" is not much better. It bears on long stems ball shape flowers of the finest texture, and richest coloring, ranging from white through many tones of pink, red, lavender and blue. Centaurea, No. 6, is remarkable for its true blue, true pink, and deep red double flowers. The type of Marigold which should be planted in No. 7 space is the dwarf two-toned Harmony strain. No. 8, calendula, is Shakespeare's "marygold," so changed for the better he would marvel at it, and still one of the finest of flowers.

For space No. 9, lilliput zinnias are recommended; they make bushy plants covered with small double flowers, which are fine for low bowl arrangements. In No. 10 plant snapdragons, of the garden type, which will bloom through most of the summer.

In the foreground of the garden, blue ageratum, in the spaces numbered 11 and white petunias in the center space, No. 12, will make a striking contrast, and bloom abundantly all summer.

Cancer of the lung is nine times as prevalent in men as in women. Regular, thorough medical check-ups by your doctor may help to find cancer at a time when it will respond to treatment.

Specially Written For The Courier
By GERRY LOUGHEED
Canadian Press Staff Writer

With spring training over, the major leagues are starting out on a brand-new baseball season. Indications are that the pennant races probably will end up just as they did last year—with New York Yankees winning the American League flag and Brooklyn Dodgers repeating in the National League.

The Dodgers, with a powerful batting order and a pitching staff deep in starters and rich in relief men, are figured to romp home with about as much ease as last year.

The few observers who aren't climbing aboard the Brooklyn bandwagon list the advanced age of key Dodger players and their proneness to injuries, pointed up this spring by the sore arms of pitchers Billy Loes and Karl Spooner.

But they've been saying for years the Dodgers are getting old. And when injuries set in last year, pitchers Roger Craig and Don Bessent were brought up in mid-season to win 16 games between them.

POWERFUL PITCHING

Though the Dodgers have lost world series before, Johnny Podres to the armed services' draft, the staff headed by Don Newcombe, Carl Erskine, Craig, Bessent and relief ace Clem Labine appears strong. Their batting power—which blasted 201 home runs last season—was enhanced by the off-season acquisition of Randy Jackson, the Chicago Cubs' slugging third baseman.

Add Jackson to the pitcher's nightmare that includes catcher Roy Campanella, infielders Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges and outfielders Duke Snider and Carl Furillo and you have a combination which could repeat Brooklyn's 13 1/2-game romp of 1955.

MANLY AT PEAK
The main threat to their supremacy appears to be the Milwaukee Braves. But an injury to pitching ace Gene Conley may keep him out of action for at least a month. His loss, combined with weaknesses at second base and in the outfield dim Milwaukee's chances.

The consensus over the American League battle favors New York by a slight margin over Cleveland Indians.

Main reason for the Yankee popularity stems from spring training showing of centre-fielder Mickey Vernon.

key Mantle. Heading into his sixth season in the majors, Mantle appears ready to reach the super-stardom predicted for him when he joined New York at age 19. In New York's first nine exhibition games, Mantle walloped five home runs, two triples and three doubles while hitting at .434 clip.

The Indians are figured to be top contenders on the basis of their Big Three pitching staff of Mike Garcia, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn, plus occasional help from veteran Bobby Feller and fastballing south-law Herb Sore.

Vernon gaily decorated for hockey finals

Chatham Maroons arrived in the gaily decorated city of Vernon at noon yesterday to be greeted by an enthusiastic crowd, 2,000 of which were school children, let out of school for the occasion.

Met by Mayor F. F. Becker, with the Hon. P. F. Gallagher doing the honors for the province, and piped into the city by the McIntosh Girls' Pipe Band, the OHA hockey team champions of eastern Canada, mounted the local fire engine for their trip along the parade route.

B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett, unable to attend in person, sent Mr. Gallagher as his representative. The latter will also face off the puck in the first game, tonight at 8:30 in the Vernon Civic Arena.

The city by the Lake of Many Colors has been whipped into the colors by their energetic mayor and long-time hockey enthusiast, F. F. Becker. City streets were gaily decorated with blue and white bunting for their own Canadians, and the maroon colored well-known signs for the invading team.

Start Early if Making New Lawn This Spring

To have a smooth lawn, fill up all low places before sowing seed.

When a new lawn is made in the spring an early start is advisable so that the new grass may become established before the ordeal of hot weather. As soon as the frost is out of the ground, and the soil is dry enough to work, the lawn area may be prepared. Never work wet soil.

Grass will not thrive in acid soil, so a check should be made on this point. The soil should test at least pH7, which is the neutral point. Crushed limestone is best to correct acidity, and also improves the texture of heavy clay soil, causing too-fine particles to collect in crumbly which permit both air and water to pass between them.

After the soil has been turned over, large lumps should be broken up and the surface leveled, because it will be difficult to fill low spots after the grass has started. A rake is the best tool for leveling and removing stones and debris.

A pulverized surface is not as good as a pebbly condition, as small soil lumps will break down and help cover the seed. Pulverized soil after watering may be baked by the sun into a hard crust.

When the surface has been leveled, seed and plant food may be spread. To spread the seed evenly at the desired rate it is best to use a plant food spreader. The practice is growing of mixing seed and plant food together, as this provides enough bulk in the hopper to insure an even flow.

For example, if it is desired to spread 30 pounds of plant food over 1,000 square feet, this amount may be placed upon a sheet of heavy paper. The amount of grass seed intended for the same area may be poured on the plant food and the two mixed thoroughly. The paper can be lifted and the mixture scattered on the lawn. Adjust the spreader to apply the plant food at the desired rate, and this will be satisfactory for the distribution of the seed in the mixture as well.

If the top soil is pulverized the seed and plant food should be sowed in lightly, to cover the seed. This may not be necessary for a pebbly surface. In either case the lawn area should then be rolled with a light roller, or firmed with a tamper or the back of a spade. This brings the seed in firm contact with the soil, which aids germination.

Now the lawn area should be sprinkled with a fine spray, not sufficient to produce run off or washing of seed. Germination of the seed will depend on warmth and moisture, and in cool weather may take considerable time. Once the seed has sprouted the soil must never be allowed to dry out until the seedling plants have established substantial roots, even if sprinkling is required twice a day.

In hot weather it may be necessary to cover the soil with a light mulch of straw or similar material free from weed seed, to shade the ground and protect the seedling plants from drying out.

In the opening game of the schedule, Hotspurs defeated Vernon by a 4-2 score, while Kamloops and Armstrong tied 1-1, and Penticton had to postpone their game with the Kamloops Indian School.

Last Sunday's games saw the Indian School bring about a surprise defeat of the classy Armstrong eleven, by a 4-3 score, and Penticton lace Vernon 3-0 in their first game of the season.

This puts Kelowna on top with one win, one tie, Kamloops and to the Peach City this Sunday for Penticton tied with two points apiece, Armstrong next with one point and Vernon in the cellar with a goose egg.

Gardening Is Fun All Your Family Will Enjoy

Children will share both the work and pleasure of the garden.

Most new homes which have been built by the million in outlying sections of American cities are occupied by city-bred families who for the first time in their lives possess land on which they can grow gardens.

Their homes are built by professionals and delivered reasonably complete, but the grounds surrounding them, for which the new owners become responsible, are usually in a sad state of dirt and disorder.

It may appall a city couple to look at this dirt and wonder how they can ever transform it into a lawn and garden.

But their discouragement will be short-lived if, on the first warm day of spring, they don working clothes, take up a rake, hoe or spade, and go out to become acquainted with their land, and make it beautiful and productive.

They will realize that what they feared would be a troublesome problem could become a rewarding adventure, and lead to a way of life more deeply satisfying than they had known before.

A love for the soil, and enjoyment of gardening, is born in man. The first do-it-yourself hobby of which there is a record was gardening. The Persian emperor Cyrus laid out a park in front of his palace at Sardis and proudly told Lygander, the Spartan, that his own hands had planted many of the trees. He was one of many do-it-yourself gardeners of high rank mentioned in history.

There is a vast difference between growing a garden, and admiring those grown by others. Many garden clubs require that their members be "dirt gardeners," who plant seeds with their own hands, and bring them to maturity by their own skill.

Experienced gardeners will agree that the keenest thrill from this hobby is felt when flowers bloom, or vegetables mature, on plants which grew from seeds sown by your own hands.

Whether this is a man's hobby or a woman's may sometimes be debated. The truth is that the pleasure and work of the garden can be shared by every member of the family.

Gardening has its artistic side, in the design of the garden, and the arrangement of flowers in its beds, and borders, and in bouquets. It provides healthful, not too strenuous exercise in the sunshine and fresh air, not at a distant beach, but right in your own home grounds.

On a small plot most of the vegetables needed by the average family can be grown in less hours of work than it would take to shop for them in the market. These vegetables can be of a tenderness and flavor impossible to buy, because they can be served within minutes after they have been harvested.

Children need no coaxing to eat such vegetables, which when fresh are rich in the vitamins that are often lost on the way to market.

Decorative gardening not only rewards the gardener but adds substantially to the value of the home, and to the standing of the whole community. The social contacts which develop from activity in gardening are not the least of its rewards. The rapid expansion of the garden club movement among both men and women is based upon the spreading interest in this hobby.

Of the many advantages in the new life now enjoyed by so many American families, the opportunity to practice gardening qualities as one of the greatest.

Okanagan Centre plans talent show May 3

OKANAGAN CENTRE — The only home-talent dramatic show at Okanagan Centre to be held over a period of several years was planned recently at a meeting of the Women's Association of St. Paul's United Church held at the home of Mrs. K. K. Kobayashi. The date was set at May 3 in the community hall.

An amusing farce, "The Old Maid's Convention," promises an evening of fun.

The association realizing the great need for additional room for the church school and having already set aside certain sums for such a building, an addition to the church has decided to devote all its efforts to that end this year.

With this in view the ladies hope to realize a good sum from the evening's entertainment, as well as provide a social get-together for the district.

There was a full attendance at the meeting which began with a devotional period led by Mrs. Fallow, finishing with refreshments served by the hostesses.

At the monthly meeting of the Okanagan Centre Women's Institute last week, at the community hall, Mrs. B. Cooney was named official delegate to the provincial conference of W.I.s. This perennial affair will be held at UBC May 29-31, and is an important link between the local institutes and the federal body which in turn is a member of the Associated Women of the World.

Proceeding the provincial rally are the district rallies which, from the Peace River to the border, are held at various central places. The rally for the South Okanagan and Similkameen will be held May 11 at Okanagan Falls.

Mrs. A. Motowyllo was elected delegate to this, and it is hoped that a large number of the institute members will be able to attend as well.

Plans were finalized for the 40th birthday party of the institute. The date is June 8 at the community hall, when, it is hoped, Mrs. Stein Gummow, Superintendent of B.C. Institutes will be present. The social hour was in the competent hands of Mrs. B. Cooney and Mrs. K. K. Kobayashi.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Wilsdon have been having a visit from their son Peter, who has been serving in Korea this past year as a member of the medical corps. While on leave, Peter plans to fly to England for a month's holiday, going from Halifax. He left Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Fallow and Mr. and Mrs. J. Motowyllo were visiting at Oliver as guests of the Hunter family, Sunday.

Mrs. H. Bond visited recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Shearer in Penticton.

Bluebird briefs

Assurance that the handicraft classes for arthritis will be able to continue came at the last meeting of the W.A. to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society when a cheque for $100.00 was received from the Kelowna Lions Club. Mrs. O. Jennens, who instructs these classes at her home once a week, reported that attendance is improving with the coming of warmer weather. Samples of the work being done were displayed at the last Lions Club meeting, and completed work will be shown for sale at the Aquatic Tearoom during the summer months, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. D. Mills.

President, Mrs. H. Van Ackeren, reporting for welfare convener Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, said that special shoes were needed for at least two patients. One pair must be specially built, while the other would have to be built up to fit the foot. A bed-board has been purchased, for which a letter of thanks was read from the patient.

Miss June Williams, branch physiotherapist, reported that she had received donations of the needed pillows for the clinic, a portable shower, and a pair of crutches. She also presented an inventory of present loan cupboard. As many items are out on indefinite loan, she is in constant need of further donations, especially crutches, self-help devices and a set of walking canes in various sizes. She would also like a wax bath, wall bars, and traction equipment for the clinic, and portable showers for home use. She told of a 24-year-old girl who had been an arthritic since she was 18, and who was looking for a book-keeping job in Kelowna. She also has one patient who would very much like to have an occasional bridge game. These matters will receive further study.

Driving Captain, Mrs. F. Hutton, reported that 14 volunteers have been used three or more times each, three drive fairly regularly, especially to Monday clinics. But with more patients under treatment, and several requiring additional transportation, more volunteers are needed. Special driving problems are presented in transporting patients in rural areas to clinic and classes.

The annual blossom drive and garden tea is planned for mid-May. Mrs. Jennens will once again lend her lakeside home for the tea. It was suggested that husbands and wives of patients be included in the invitations this year.

Mrs. E. Winter is in charge of the raffle of the beautifully-dressed doll donated by a patient, which will be on display at Leslie's Children's Wear.

Following the meeting, tea was served honoring four visitors from the Vernon branch of the C.A.R.S. They were: Miss Audrey Kelly, branch physio, Mrs. Shaw, president; Mrs. O. Thomson and Mrs. I. Crozier. As yet, an auxiliary has not been formed in the Vernon area and the visitors left with the expressed wish of the Kelowna branch in their continued success.

Next regular meeting of the W.A. will be held May 8 at the Health Centre at 2:30 p.m.

The death rate from lung cancer in males doubled in the ten years between 1949 and 1953. There was no change in the lung cancer death rate among women.

Chas. Nelson, who had been visiting at his daughter's, Mrs. Orville Charlton, has returned to his home in Chulivick.

At the W.I. meeting held at the home of Mrs. F. W. Clarke on the evening of April 10, Mrs. J. G. McCaulder and Mrs. L. T. Hannam were appointed delegates to attend the district convention to be held at Okanagan Falls on May 10.

The Westbank branch of the Red Cross Society made a shipment of the following 75 articles on April 9 to hospital at Vancouver: 21 large quilts; one baby quilt; 14 jumpers, seven pajamas, six face cloths, eight overalls, ten boys' shirts, three nightgowns, and five sweaters.

This brings the total number of articles shipped to date this year to 301.

Visiting in town at the weekend from Kamloops were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hewlett and Mrs. Brian Jones and Kathy.

In the Kelowna hospital at present are Mrs. Pascal, Mrs. A. W. Baguley, and Mr. Wood, Sr.

Mrs. R. M. Simpson and Catherine spent a few days in town visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cousenau and family have been up from Ashcroft to renew old acquaintances here.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hannam have been Mr. and Mrs. A. Muir, of Princeton, and also Mrs. Archie McBain, of Dawson Creek.

Mrs. R. H. Peers, of Lakeview Heights, entertained on Monday evening to celebrate the birthdays of both her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Garrod. There were three tables of bridge.

A dance under the auspices of House 3 was held in the George Pringle high school on Friday evening. Prizes for contests were donated corsages and leis. A good crowd was in attendance.

Mrs. W. R. Smith was the recipient of many messages of congratulation on the occasion of her 89th birthday last Saturday. There was a family reunion over the weekend at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. MacLean.

Trophy presented for best play

The Kelowna Courier Rose Bowl Trophy presented to Kelowna Little Theatre for the best play, and awarded this year for the production "One Evening at Nero's", directed by Mrs. Robert Hayman. Roy Lobb, as "Seneca" in this play, was the winner of the Johnston-Watson Memorial trophy for the best actor. Lacey Fisher, of Salmon Arm, was the adjudicator.

Awards presented

Adjudicator commends Kelowna Little Theatre on type of one-act plays selected and high calibre of actors

Mrs. Robert Hayman was awarded the Kelowna Courier trophy for the best play "One Evening at Nero's" in the Kelowna Little Theatre's festival of three one-act plays presented in the Empress Theatre Monday night.

In making the award, adjudicator Lacey Fisher said he had difficulty in choosing between the winning play and "Still Stands the House" in which the best actresses in the evening's presentation played their parts.

"One Evening at Nero's" was not such an achievement to play as "Still Stands the House", but the entire cast brought this well-balanced comedy off so well, at the right pace and with such good timing, that he felt that he could not deprive the rest of the Okanagan from enjoying it, too. This play will compete in the South Okanagan drama zone festival at Penticton on May 11 and 12.

BEST ACTOR

Mrs. Michael Hall won the B.M.S. trophy for her direction of "Still Stands the House"—the "almost best play" as Mr. Fisher phrased it.

Roy Lobb won the Johnston-Watson Memorial trophy for the best actor, as "Seneca" in "One Evening at Nero's" and Mrs. Ernest Jensen won the C.K.O.V. trophy for the best actress in the part of "Hester" in "Still Stands the House".

Best supporting actor was Don Haines as "Anicetus". Best supporting actress Mrs. R. B. Winsby as "Octavia", both in "One Evening at Nero's". Mr. Haines won the K.L.T. Challenge Trophy and Mrs. Winsby the B.M.S. Trophy for supporting parts.

Of "Still Stands the House" Mr. Fisher said that the two women Mrs. Hall as "Ruth Warren" and Mrs. Jensen as "Hester Warren" made it a better play than he had ever realized it to be. So good were they that he forgot to be critical. Of Bruce Warren, taken by Michael Hall, Mr. Lacey felt that "Bruce" became very real as the sincere, simple play proceeded.

NONCHALANT MURDER

Mr. Fisher felt that the cast in "Lucy's Little Party" had a most difficult task to perform nonchalant murder in the cramped quarters in which they played, especially that of the balcony. Another difficult part of the play was the table scene, which revealed a certain slowness and did not hold the attention of the audience.

This play, the adjudicator pointed out, demands a great deal in delivery of lines. Mrs. G. Sundin as Lucie thought good, as were many more bits of acting throughout. Lucie was beautiful, and wicked, just as she was meant to be. Hugh Bernau as Cesare, also was good, and Mrs. Lobb as "Flammetta" got in some good moments of acting.

Roy Lobb as "Baldassarre" got the full worth out of his part, Mr. Fisher said, and it was obvious that the audience felt that he stole the show.

This play was written by A. J. Talbot and directed by Mrs. H. J. Hughes. Gwendolyn Pharis is the author of "Still Stands the House". A. J. Talbot wrote "One Evening at Nero's".

PLAYS WELL CHOSEN

Not only is Mr. Fisher well known in dramatic circles, one of the founders of Everyman Theatre, but he is also an actor and director, has been with UBC Alumni Players and has frequently adjudicated festivals in the Kootenays. He praised K.L.T. for the high standard of its productions, and of Monday evening's presentation felt that the three plays were well chosen, and wondered if the Theatre had got together and decided to have lots of murder this year! In voting his fondness for K.L.T. Mr. Fisher said he wasn't so sure that he liked it so well now, as such a difficult job had been given to him in judging Monday's productions and in deciding which play carried out the author's intentions best.

Kelowna council of women wants government to introduce legislation to provide simplified method of forming hospital improvement districts for financing building

Kelowna Council of Women have gone on record asking the provincial government to introduce legislation which will provide a simplified method of establishing hospital improvement districts for the purpose of financing building of hospitals by money bylaws approved by land owners in such hospital improvement districts.

The resolution points out that the establishment of many hospitals in organized territory in B.C. has been chiefly attained through municipal taxation and community effort. Realizing that such hospitals also serve the residents of adjacent unorganized territory, which population does not contribute directly to such taxation organizations presenting this resolution feel that government should make it possible to raise money by taxation from the owners of land in such unorganized territory for approved building projects and major repairs and alterations to such buildings.

Results of the study of this resolution of the senior hospital district concerning a new wing for the hospital, with facilities for children, and demolition of the annex, will be published next month.

Twelve organizations were represented at the meeting, held in the Community Health Centre, Queensway, at which speaker L. G. Butler was guest speaker.

Mr. Butler, well known in the valley, having been fourteen years on the board of governors of B.C. Tree Fruits and a considerable part of that time as vice-president, addressed the meeting on "Some Aspects of the Fruit Industry in the Okanagan".

Mr. Butler briefly outlined the history of the raising of fruit here from the early plantings of Lord Aberdeen in the Coldstream area, through the vicissitudes of the 1920's, the depression of the 1930's, and the eventual evolution in 1939 of central selling and the establishment of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

INCREASED PRODUCTION
In connection with markets, he referred to the increasing production, particularly of the McIntosh variety, in the province of Quebec, and also larger crops emanating from Ontario. These factors limit British Columbia's opportunities in the east and in some cases have, in recent years, represented competition in our own market.

He referred to the fact that in the 1920's over two million boxes of the total of some four and a half million found their way into the United Kingdom market, which is no longer available to us to the extent it was in those days.

He made reference to the recent development of Grand Coulee water for the Columbia River basin development, and quoted some figures as to acreages which will be in soft fruits, apples and pears by 1960. These, in addition to the plantings at Cawdon, Westbank, Penticton in our own valley could represent substantial increases which might exceed projected population increases.

He made reference to the trend towards the establishment of large chains or super markets and the effect this has in relations with the distributing trade.

Former local minor hockey player making name for himself on eastern TV

It is a far cry from a goalie's hockey stick to a delicate violin, but Peter Zadorozny of Kelowna, pictured above, showed that it could be done. A star in the minor hockey in the Orchard City, in midgeets, bantams, and juveniles, he continued faithfully practicing on his violin, studying under Mrs. Eva Campbell, until he reached a good measure of fame on TV and live performances, with the Peace River Rangers, in eastern Canada.

One former Kelowna minor hockey star has made a name for himself in the outside world, but he has done it in the field of music, rather than the sphere of athletics.

Peter Zadorozny, age 20, has appeared on TV in Toronto, and made personal appearances in Montreal and Windsor with the "Peace River Rangers", a popular eastern Canadian orchestra, specializing in Western music.

Young Zadorozny, whose parents live on the Benvenuto Road, is well known in Kelowna as a sparkling goal tender, playing his way through the association from bantams through midgeets, into juveniles. In his juvenile year, he played on the city's all-star team.

But all the time he was playing hockey, Peter was also practicing on the violin, taking lessons from Mrs. Eva Campbell, a widowed woman who has taught a great number of young Kelownians in her many years as a music teacher.

Following his juvenile hockey career, he left the Orchard City for the east, where the opportunities for a music career were more abundant, and had no trouble clicking with the organization he plays with at present.

Now making regular appearances on TV, and touring the large centers of Ontario and Quebec, he is showing his former hockey companions that he had something more on the ball than athletics, and proving to

Glenmore council approves garbage collection bid

Receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, are Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Nahn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kaiser, of Benvenuto, have recently purchased property in the Dillworth subdivision. Joe Kaiser, who has for several seasons starred with the Kelowna Packers hockey team, appears to have now decided that he intends to make this district his permanent home.

Miss Lorna Rankin, has returned from a trip to Winnipeg, where she was visiting friends.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. McCormick of No. 4 Bankhead last week, was Mrs. McCormick's sister Mrs. R. S. Gilbert of Vernon.

Former local man receives high award

Dr. Cecil G. Hewlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hewlett of South Kelowna, has been awarded the Peacock Memorial prize (1955), given by the Walker Mineralogical Club of the University of Toronto for his outstanding contribution to mineralogical science.

A native Kelownian, Dr. Hewlett received his elementary and high school education here.

Glenmore PTA speaker says B.C. leads in combatting juvenile delinquency

GLENMORE — A good turn out Canada, by utilizing the Boral of Glenmore PTA members last Monday evening, heard Rutland school teacher, Neil Kerr give a very interesting and informative talk on juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Kerr spoke on the work of the BISCO school at Nanaimo and the most parents present at the also outlined the funds of the U.N. on delinquency among juveniles.

From his experience and observations, the speaker opined that British Columbia has progressed far in combatting juvenile delinquency which it is hoped, will be well patterned than any other province in Canada.

By-pass brief given full approval at Penticton trade board meeting

PENTICTON — A resolution was unanimously adopted at last Friday's board of trade meeting recommending that a brief be presented to the department of highways urging the authorities to "continue to designate the present route through the city as Highway 97, and provide for a fast through truck route located within the city, preferably on the east side of the Okanagan river channel."

A feature of the meeting was the presence of Premier W. A. C. Bennett guest speaker. Also present was Mayor Matson and members of his council.

It was revealed that, in addition to a number of other Penticton organizations, the city council has gone on record as approving in principle the information and recommendations and re-recommendations as summarized up in the board of trade brief. A letter to this effect from council was read before the board meeting.

The board's brief, which summed up a good deal of opinion and seemed to dispense with need for discussion of various points was as follows:

While the provincial department of highways is planning reconstruction in the Penticton area, it is requested that consideration be given the following submission.

ECONOMIC NECESSITY
The second major industry of Penticton is the Tourist Industry. The gross dollar income from tourists is approximately $2,145,000.

On the basis of both a national survey and one conducted in Vancouver, money spent for accommodation represents one fifth or less of tourist spending. Thus the total spent by tourists in Penticton and district in 1955 was over $2,147,000.

Payments for fruit in an average year are approximately $3,000,000. Hotels and motels in the district have a current market value of $4,620,000, and those in the city pay taxes totalling $32,750.

A by-pass highway would decrease the flow of tourist traffic through the city and seriously reduce the income of a major industry.

Girl's body found near Shingle Creek

PENTICTON — Remains of a woman's body found near the mouth of Shingle Creek Monday morning, have been positively identified as those of Caroline Gutteridge.

She has been missing since the early morning hours of June 11, 1955.

Miss Gutteridge, a 21-year-old telephone operator, was with a male companion in a car at Shingle Creek dam, and reports at that time said she got out of the car and failed to return. Waters of the creek were swollen by the spring freshet.

Shortly after noon Monday her stepfather identified a watch and ring found at the scene, as belonging to the woman.

Two employees of Interior Contracting Company, Benge Corigan and Elliott Williams were working in the creek bed on a flood-control project.

They had been asked by RCMP to keep a lookout for the body. Corigan had scraped away gravel to a depth of about three feet when he spotted part of a garment.

Police were called, water was pumped away and the remains were brought to the surface. As the gravel was sifted, the watch and the ring were recovered.

"I'm the fellow who couldn't save a nickel."

It's his birthday, but it's your present!

The birthday — The Bank of Nova Scotia's

Personal Security Program now 2 years old!

The present — P.S.P. broadens coverage to bring its benefits to even more Canadians!

TWO YEARS AGO, the fellow who couldn't save a nickel, whose bank book was flatter than a sliced dime discovered PSP—and told other Canadians about it. Since then, more and more Canadians have come to The Bank of Nova Scotia to take advantage of this exclusive program that makes saving so much easier, surer, more regular.

You just decide to make a small monthly instalment in your PSP account. And here's the real pay-off. There's a guarantee. If you were to die the beneficiary would get the full amount of your savings— even if you'd only made one payment.

And now, PSP broadens its scope. The age limit for participants in the program goes up from 46 to 51. Learn all about this easier way to save; ask at your nearest BNS branch.

A young man at school worked in his father's business in his spare time. His father suggested he open a PSP account for $1,000. Payments of $20 monthly have reached $500. When he graduates his PSP savings will buy him a partnership in his father's business.

A homeowner who wanted more insurance plus funds to retire the second mortgage on his house, took out a PSP account for $1,000. He died after making a few payments. With the insurance on the PSP account his widow was able to pay the mortgage in full.

Two young service station operators with limited capital opened PSP accounts for $1,000 each, naming each other as beneficiaries to give themselves some protection, and also to save towards buying new stations. Already, there is $480 in each account.

An eleven-year old schoolboy with a paper route is paying $5 monthly into a $250 PSP account. He figures on helping his widowed mother to put him through school. He has since opened another account of $100, as a start towards funds for University.

A widow who goes out to work was constantly worried by the of providing sufficient funds to educate her 11-year old son. PSP. She is now its strong supporter, since saving monthly instalments solves her problem.

An immigrant husband and wife, who arrived 2 years ago from Germany, decided that systematic savings represented their only hope of financing a trip to see their parents. They chose a $1,000 PSP account, paying $30 monthly, and their objective is in sight.

Action a-plenty!

There's action when you use a 4 1/2-ounce rod. And there's action a-plenty in Jim Bond's superb fishing picture, "Fishing Across Canada." This widely acclaimed color picture, very carefully edited, with music background and Jim Bond's descriptive narration, is just about tops in entertainment.

When Jim Bond comes to Kelowna, at the Empress Theatre, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. he will show his three best technicolor productions, "Fishing Across Canada", "The Happy Hunting Ground" and "Blow The Wild Whale". The feature and Bond's personal appearance is sponsored by The Kelowna Rod and Gun Club.

Chatham Maroons arrive in Vernon wearing regatta hats!

It came as a surprise to the Vernon welcoming committee to see the first four or five Chatham Maroons descending from the coach of the CPR train in Vernon wearing Kelowna Regatta hats, but it was no surprise to the unofficial welcoming party from Kelowna that had met the train at Sicom junction.

A group of civic-minded Orchard City fans, thinking over the matter of Chatham's original plan to make Kelowna their headquarters, decided to travel up to the point where the main line joins the Okanagan Valley line, and bid the eastern Canadian champs welcome.

Undeterred by the lateness of the hour at which they made their decision, the small, tight-knit group scoured the town and environs, collecting good quality apples, cans of apple juice, and regatta hats to take with them as tokens of their affection. Unfortunately, they were only able to round up four or five hats, but managed very well with the apples and juice.

Departing in the small hours of the morning, they arrived in Sicom in plenty of time for the train, which was an hour late, and formed up at the train as a welcoming committee.

"Look, fellows," one player shouted, seeing the "Kelowna" on the hats, "we're in Kelowna."

Bill Chalmers, former Packer, quickly dispelled that notion, and they got down to the business of talking things over. Vice-President

Allan Cup finals

Vernon Canadians and Chatham primed for opening contest tonight

The first tussle in the biggest amateur hockey series in Canada—the Allan Cup play-offs—takes place tonight in the Vernon Civic Arena, with the Patton Cup holders, Vernon Canadians, representing western Canada against Chatham Maroons, the eastern Canadian champs.

Canadians won their way into the finals by defeating Winnipeg Maroons in a short series, that saw the prairie team cut off with only one tie to their credit. Chatham beat the semi-finalist St. John Beavers four straight games, after dropping the first one to the MAHA crowd.

Second game of the series will take place in Vernon on Saturday, with the third game coming to Kelowna on Monday.

Wednesday's game, the fourth, and deciding game if the series goes one way in a hurry, will be played in Kamloops, with the next three coming back to Vernon.

The eighth game, should the series go that far, will be played in Kamloops or Kelowna.

The city of Vernon is going all out to entertain the visiting Chatham team, who arrived in the home of the Agarmen Wednesday noon, and were greeted by the McIntosh Girls' Pipe Band, and a big crowd, including some school children, who had been given time off to make the celebration a good one.

STAY IN VERNON
Original plans of the Maroons called for them to make Kelowna their headquarters, but their plans were changed at the last moment, after they had made reservations at a local hotel.

Their cancellation of reservation and change of plans to favor Vernon as their headquarters touched off a torrent of persiflage between a radio commentator in Kelowna and one in Vernon.

Mayor F. F. Becker of Vernon, long time hockey official in the BCCHA, and life time member of that organization, has been attributed with the lion's share of the responsibility in changing the Maroons' plans, and his efforts in this respect are reported to have made him the target of some diverse comments.

While the words fly back and forth, the arena managers in the cities concerned are busy preparing for what will prove to be a big job for them. Vernon's Herb Phillips is going to have to extend his press box facilities to handle the big influx of press and radio representatives to keep the present box from bursting at the seams.

FINAL SERIES OF SEASON

Local Manager Percy Downton reports no trouble here, with the two box set-up in the local arena, but is still up to his ears in ticket headaches.

Both press and radio mediums have made arrangements to give the series top-flight coverage, representing, as it does, the last murmur from the hockey scene for this year.

Okanagan hockey fans are busily making arrangements to see as many games of the series as possible, with the thought in mind that it may be the last Allan Cup series played here for a year or two.

(See story on this page for Chatham line-up.)

Schaeffer and Jablonski may form battery Sunday against Oliver ball club

Al Schaeffer will probably be the starting pitcher for the Kelowna Orioles this Sunday, when they heard the powerful Oliver team in their den, with Greg Jablonski, rangy Packer forward, the receiving end of the battery. Another pitcher, a south paw, is a possibility for the first game, although his name has not been disclosed as yet.

Powerhouse Dick Getz, the local radio announcer who is dynamite on the mound, will be unable to play due to work commitments.

Coch Hank Tostenson has not had too much time to round out his squad yet, and the Sunday game will be in the nature of a trial workout, to see how the players shape up in their tentative spots.

The Orioles staged a practice on Tuesday, attended by more ball players than have been turning out, and coach Tostenson has called another practice for tonight, at which time the spots for the players will be decided.

Uniforms will be issued at the 6:00 p.m. practice. In other Okanagan-Mainline play, Summerland will host Princeton, with Penikese and Kamloops getting a bye.

Fifteen years ago only 5 percent of men with cancer of the prostate gland survived. Modern treatment has increased that figure to 30 percent.

Adanacs plan twice-weekly ball workouts

Rutland Adanacs will continue to practice on Sundays at 2:00 p.m. and Thursdays at 6 p.m., until the opening of the ball season on May 6, for the Interior League.

In the first week in May, following the advent of Daylight Saving Time, they will start practicing twice during the week, on Tuesday and Saturday, with the Sundays reserved for league games.

The Adanacs intend to play their home games in Rutland, but should the park be seeded, they may try to get the Elks Stadium for some of their games.

ANGLE-LORE
Where and how to get the best fishing

By JIM TREADGOLD

(Editor's Note—As a service to anglers, The Kelowna Courier carries this fishing column, by one of the district's best authorities, every Thursday. Mr. Treadgold will welcome reports from anyone. The more co-operation, the more information can be passed on to others.)

The 1956 fishing regulations have just been issued and on checking them over I note a few changes from last year.

Firstly, the regulations are in better form than ever in the past—that is they are easier to understand. This will be much appreciated by the angling public, and the game department should be congratulated even if the changes are long past due.

The limit now is: Tidal waters, for steelhead and spring or coho salmon, three per day over five pounds each. This is one more than last season. The trout limit is still twelve per day and the limit on kokanee is set at fifteen per day.

The daily limit on our own sport-fish is also governed by the clause of twenty-five pounds and one additional fish.

The catch possession limit has been raised to a three day limit except in the Kootenays where the two day limit still holds. In the Okanagan district the size limit is six inches in all lakes and streams.

For the skin divers the new clause, "Throughout the non-tidal waters of the province, spear-fishing for other than trout, game fish, salmon and whitefish is permissible," will be of interest.

The clause prohibiting the use of a power gurdy or appliance that is operated by artificial power has been rescinded.

There is no closed season for fishing in lakes in the Okanagan district. Creeks in the Kelowna area open May 15 to the last day of February, except Mill creek which is open from April 1 to September 30, and Mission creek which is not open this year till July 1.

The short season is still effective on the Kettle River; that is June 1 to September 15. The closure of part of Echo lake at Tunby has been rescinded.

The warm weather of the past week has brought the fishing gear out of mothballs and the fishing department should be congratulated for having caught all fishermen.

Vince Curran and Matt Wagner brought in a nice catch of four kokanee and three trout from Wood lake. The kokanee were all around two pounds, with one going up to two pounds nine ounces. They had been caught on a cherry bobber and worms, no gang troll.

A few reports are trickling in from Okanagan Lake, with best results in the Mission Bay area.

If one should take a trout that is getting ready to spawn in the Mission area it may be wise to put it back in the lake as the new fish-ladder in Mission Creek will be in operation next month during the spawning run and it would be nice to see a few of these larger fish at the spawning grounds near Canyon Creek this season.

All efforts are going to be directed to bring Mission Creek on as a trout producer once again. The ice is off Glenmore reservoir and there is expected to be some fishing there.

Former Kelowna man exchanges wedding vows

Of interest in Kelowna was the wedding of Edmund V.L. Peachland of Kelowna, V.I., formerly of Kelowna, B.C., to Elizabeth Ann Peachland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Peachland of Kelowna.

The Rev. E. H. Gilmour officiated at the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Peachland. The groom, who was born and brought up in Kelowna, is in the garage business at Dawson Creek, and his bride was on the staff of the Social Welfare branch in Dawson Creek. The couple will make their home in Dawson Creek.

The bride wore a spring suit in a warm white color, with accessories in tone. Her mother-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Peachland, Jr., was mother of honor, and chose a suit in a ruby red and white, styled with short box jacket. The bride's brother, Mr. Arthur Peachland, was groomsmen.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Peachland of Kelowna; Mrs. Mildred Neibitt, Lashburn; Sask. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Preston and Mrs. Rosemary Stokes, all of Vancouver.

Cancer is not contagious. It can appear at any age, but is most common with older people.

Charter members honored by Peachland W.I.

Three charter members of the Peachland Women's Institute were honored at a recent celebration for the 43rd birthday of the organization. Above, the three members are seen with the president of the institute. Left to right they are: Mrs. P. N. Dorland of Penicton, Mrs. W. Coldham, Mrs. A. Smalls, the charter members; and Mrs. K. Domi, president.

Birthday party

PEACHLAND WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEMBERS LOOK BACK ON MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS SINCE 1913

By PEGGY WHINTON

PEACHLAND — Members and friends gathered at the Peachland Municipal Hall to celebrate the forty-third birthday of the Peachland Women's Institute last Friday evening.

Charter members, Mrs. P. N. Dorland of Penicton, Mrs. A. Smalls and Mrs. W. Coldham were presented with corsages. Mrs. W. B. Sanderson who is also a charter member was unable to attend.

Cards and a social time followed the business meeting, and a tea, complete with birthday cake, rounded out an enjoyable evening.

Forty-three years of community service is the record of the Women's Institute and from the minute book it is interesting to note what some of these services were. With the co-operation of the Farmers' Institute, the fall fair and flower show was started in 1919. Also in that year, swings were installed on the school grounds and a bale of clothing sent to Belgium people.

The forerunner of the present library started in 1922 when 453 books were taken over from the Municipality of Peachland. This project was operated and financed until 1936.

Also in 1922 a drinking fountain things for granted, little realizing was installed on the main street and the work and effort that members co-operation was given the municipality of such organizations as the W.I. cial council in the beautification have done to place them in our and planting of trees at the cemetery.

The beauty of the War Memorial plot is often taken for granted but since 1924 the Institute has been in charge of the gardens in this plot and the planning and care has been its responsibility.

VALENTINE TEA
The idea of a Valentine tea was presented in 1926. Another needed service was provided when after much study in 1929, a board of directors was formed for the Victorian Order of Nurses which served Peachland, Glenn Rosa and Westbank. At this time, it is recorded, 125 members attended the annual open meeting.

Members in 1935 donated a large sum of money to help in the erection of the present community hall. At this time, the 22nd year, the invited Mrs. McGregor, 1st vice-president, Federated Women's Institute, to their birthday party. She chose as her topic the Peace Garden in Southern Manitoba.

The war years called for all institute members to do their share and in 1940 the Comforts Club which brought added luxuries to all Peachland veterans, is well remembered. All 21 quilts were turned over to the Red Cross.

In 1941 there were 384 four-pound tins of jam, 36 cans of fruit and 31 quilts turned over to the Red Cross. These were the war years when all the efforts of the members were directed towards helping the Red Cross.

The following record is an impressive one for the 34 members: 1942, 352 cans of peaches, 159 cans of jam; 1943, 1312 pounds of jam, 17 large quilts, five small quilts; 1944, 12 large quilts, nine small quilts, 77 comfort quilts; 1945, 2302 pounds of jam, ten large quilts, three small quilts; 1946, seven large quilts. When the war ended, once more the institute turned to community projects and in 1946 sponsored the Guide movement.

Geographical Journal was purchased for the school children in earlier years and the subscription was once more renewed in 1948. This was a very active year with parcels being sent to their adopted W.I. in England. A picture of Okanagan Lake was presented to Lady Alexander as a memento of her visit to Peachland.

The United Emergency Fund for Great Britain was $103.90 richer through the members' efforts in taking care of the collections in 1949. During this year they sponsored the TB Clinic and 346 persons availed themselves of this service.

It is interesting to note that in 1950 the delegates to the Institute Rally carried with them the following resolution: "We petition the government to build a bridge across honor bridge-dead Miss Irene Stolz Okanagan Lake to Kelowna, to a kitchen shower, Mrs. Stolz will avoid bottlenecks in the future, become the bride of Mr. Archie Schobberger at a 10:00 a.m. ceremony on Saturday, April 21, in the Church of the Immaculate Conception."

The movement to help handicapped children was supported in 1953 and throughout all the years the drive for funds of the Conquer Cancer, Arthritis and Rheumatism, Salvation Army, etc., have received support.

Winfield auxiliary will support local hospital fair by making donations

WINFIELD — The first regular monthly meeting of the Winfield Hospital Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. G. Shaw on Wednesday. There were ten members present and there was considerable interest in the first meeting. All members will try to bring a friend to the next meeting in hopes of building up the membership.

The five-member executive is as follows: president, Mrs. G. Shaw; vice-president, Mrs. P. Salome; secretary, Mrs. J. A. Green; treasurer, Mrs. C. Hopper; buying committee, Mrs. B. Ramsay.

Many ideas were discussed on how to raise money quickly to get the auxiliary off to a good start and one or two ideas are being investigated. Details will be announced later.

Four members of the new auxiliary are going to attend the next meeting of the Kelowna Junior Hospital Auxiliary of which this auxiliary is a subsidiary.

To help out at the Kelowna Hospital fair, the auxiliary needs donations of home cooking, needlework, cany, plants, cut flowers, white elephants. All those wishing to give who are not already giving through some other organization, should take donations to either Mrs. G. Shaw or Mrs. J. A. Green.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and arrangements made to hold the next meeting on Tuesday, May 1 at the home of Mrs. J. A. Green. Anyone interested in becoming a member will be welcome.

The regular monthly meeting of the Farmer's Institute was held in the club room of the Memorial Hall. There was quite a discussion on fire protection. A committee was set up to investigate the setting up of a fire siren, which was donated by J. Klassen, at the central point in the district. Arrangements are being made to have a speaker at the next meeting at the end of the business session. Three short films were shown, "Canoe Country," "People's Bank" and "Don't be a Sucker," following which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Collidge and daughter, Karen, of Williams Lake, are visiting for a month at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Goodburn.

The week at Ottawa

Specialized Writing for The Courier
By DON MACCORMICK

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson has described the recent speech by Communist Party secretary, Maria Khrushcheva to the Soviet Union at Moscow as a "very important" to the world as a whole.

The 70-hour speech directed developments in Russia which have affected the heart of east-west relations, said Mr. Pearson, describing these developments as "important and thoughtful."

He told the Commons external affairs committee last week that he and his department have drawn several conclusions from Khrushcheva's creation. Among them:

1. There has been some mellowing of the new Russian attitude and it is now more realistic and external relations. There generally was a more realistic approach to the West, aimed at removing the West's fears so that it would relax and fall apart.

2. Russia was concentrating its attention on neutral nations by continuing its policy of "friendly" negotiations with western nations to play them off against each other, especially against the United States.

SUPREMACY GROUP
3. The present Russian leaders were full of self-confidence, otherwise they would not have dared the "rehabilitation and degradation of Stalin."

4. The principle of collective leadership seemed pretty well established, one despot—Stalin—having been replaced by several. Khrushchev appeared the dominant figure and might one day become the single Soviet ruler.

5. Russia intended to maintain and increase its military strength and alliance, and heavy industry would continue to get top priority.

Mr. Pearson cautioned that long-range Russian objectives are unaltered and that the Soviet challenge remains strong, in some respects more dangerous than that provided by the nakedly aggressive policy of Stalin.

There were some encouraging features in the Communist attack on Stalin and indications of even Lenin's doctrine. The effect must have been unsettling and disturbing in Russia and was obviously bewildering to Communist parties in other countries. Victims of Stalin had been given "posthumous respectability."

Mr. Pearson said the "notable change" in Russia's manner of conducting foreign policy may persist for some time and present the West with new opportunities.

NEW U.S. ENVOY
A top-flight American diplomat, one of the brightest minds in the State Department at Washington, has been appointed the new United States Ambassador to Canada. Livingston T. Merchant, 53-year-old assistant secretary of state for European affairs, succeeds R. Douglas Stuart, retiring after three years in the Ottawa post.

The appointment of Merchant was interpreted here as American recognition of Canada's growing influence in world affairs and of the increasing complexity of Canadian-American problems.

ALASKAN CORRIDORS
The Yukon's only Commons representative wants four Canadian corridors through the Alaska panhandle to give free outlets to the sea for the Yukon and northern British Columbia. Liberal J. A. Simmons said in the Commons last week that development of the Canadian areas and of the panhandle itself is hindered by the long, coastal strip of Alaskan territory extending south within 100 miles of Prince Rupert.

He urged an immediate approach to U.S. authorities by External Affairs Minister Pearson to enlist their support for the idea.

Peach queen chosen for festival

Pentleton High School student, Miss Maureen Gibson, age 17, will represent the 1956 Pentleton Peach Festival August 10, 17 and 18 as Queen Val-Vedette IX. Her attendant princesses will be Miss Patricia Chisholm, Patricia Taylor and Miss Sarah-Jane Clark. Joyce Lynn, Mayor Oscar Matson announced the judges' decision to a capacity crowd at the Princess Review Ball on Friday in the Hotel Prince Charles following a week of social events and public appearances. The successful trio was chosen from a group of eight lovely candidates sponsored by the high school, women's organizations and service clubs.

The festival queen-elect who was entered in the royalty campaign as Miss Pen-H. Grade 12, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gibson, 401 Windsor Avenue. Miss Taylor is the daughter of Canon and Mrs. A. R. Taylor and Miss Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lynn.

Prior to the mayor's appearance to make the official announcement, the eight candidates were introduced by the president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Peach Festival Association, Mrs. A. Earl Wells, who presented each contestant with a small gift from the association. Mrs. Kenneth Davenport, past president of the auxiliary, assisted Mrs. Wells and described the lovely gown worn by the group.

Queen Val-Vedette VIII, Miss Sharon Crook, and Princess Maureen Gibson officiated at the presentation of the trophy to the newly-elected.

Although more research work throughout the world is being done on cancer than on any other medical problem, scientists still have not discovered the cause of cancer.

Smoke-jumpers in Sask. are well-trained

Mr. Simmonds' corridor proposal is for free transportation of goods between the Alaskan coastal towns and the Yukon and northern B.C.

One of his four proposed corridors would be the rail route between Staggway, Alaska and Whitecourt, Y.T. The others would be along the Yukon, Stikine and Chilkat rivers. Two of the Alaskan ports would be Wrangell and Haines.

"This is a matter of two friendly countries seeking a common-sense solution and a method of co-operating for their mutual advantage and benefit," he said.

J. M. DeLong, 75-year-old Liberal, whose Alaskan constituency is in northern Alberta, urged extension of the rail line that now ends at Waterways, Alta., northward to Great Slave Lake to speed development of natural resources there.

Still on the North, Angus MacLean, O.P.C.-Quebec, suggested two new provinces be established, carved out of northern Ontario and Quebec. The Prime Minister, however, said the idea is not far-fetched, provided residents of the area are agreeable.

FATAL FIRES PROBLEM
Two leading opposition members in the Commons have asked the federal government to take a lead in removing fire hazards in the Ottawa area, scene of fatal fires last winter.

CCF leader Coldwell urged action in removing sub-standard dwellings. If that were one it would set an example to the rest of Canada. Fires took 51 lives last winter in the Ottawa district, including 21 in the capital and nine in neighboring Hull, Que.

John Deffenbacher (PC-Prince Albert) supported the CCF leader's proposal for a federal-provincial-municipal conference on fire prevention. He said it could consider adoption of an effective slum-clearance program throughout Canada.

Works Minister Winters replied that some of the Ottawa fire deaths were due to faulty electrical wiring, a provincial and municipal concern. The government was trying to create wider awareness of fire hazards. A conference of fire marshals officials would be held next September on the west coast, and his deputy minister, Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, would attend.

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—Saskatchewan's smoke-jumpers are of necessity men of good health, says D. W. Kelly, jumpmaster with the Saskatchewan Forest Service.

Mr. Kelly told a forestry meeting in this sister province that preference in selecting the jumpers is given to men between 18 and 28 years of age, who weigh less than 175 pounds and are in top condition.

Describing the nine-year-old smoke-jumpers' operation of the Saskatchewan Forest Service, Mr. Kelly said it has four crews of four men each. The crews are on duty about six months of the year, stationed either at Prince Albert or Lac La Ronge in the northern part of the province. When fire hazard is low, the men do other forestry work.

A four-week course determines the ability of a man to work as a smoke-jumper. He takes physical training, is taught the use of a parachute and hears lectures and sees demonstrations on first aid, fire suppression and how to use a compass and maintain fire equipment.

By the end of the first week of training, Mr. Kelly said, the men must be able to run six miles. After two weeks, they must be able to tumble safely from the back of a truck travelling at 25 miles an hour.

Before being sent to a fire, potential smoke-jumpers must make eight parachute drops, three of them in the bush. The men wear heavy canvas, snag-proof suits, helmets and masks and Mr. Kelly said the only accident in 5,000 jumps has been a broken hip. The jumpers carry an extra length of rope to lower themselves to the ground should they be "hung up" in a tree.

Two parachutes are worn, one in case of emergencies. The men also learn how to pack and drop cargo, which they will need at the scene of the fire.

When smoke is sighted by a fire watcher, the location and other information is radioed to the smoke-jumpers and one or two crews are sent to the scene. Their job is to assess the situation and hold the line until reinforcements arrive. With wireless sets dropped from the plane at the time of the jump, they can tell firefighting headquarters what is needed.

Following suppression of the fire, the men have to "walk out". Mr. Kelly said, carrying packs of up to 100 pounds. Usually they are met by a float-equipped plane at the nearest lake.

Quebec children get more chance at camps

QUEBEC (CP)—A summer vacation in the country—something which is still only a dream for many city children—may soon become a reality for 15,000 youngsters in the Quebec City area.

About 2,500 school-age boys and girls in Quebec already enjoy a three-week holiday every year, through facilities provided by about a dozen camps scattered throughout the surrounding district. But because of insufficient camp facilities and lack of funds on the part of many parents the majority of the city's youngsters have only the city streets for a playground during the hot season.

To help remedy the situation, the city's Central Welfare Council has come up with the idea of extending the system of "day camps," now in operation on a small scale. Under this system, the children use the recreational facilities of the camps during the day, but sleep at home, thus making possible the accommodation of a far greater number of campers.

The camps at present in operation are managed by religious orders or service clubs. There is one camp for girls only, while the others accommodate either boys only, or boys and girls at separate periods.

The camps run at a loss every year. It costs an average of $2.55 a day to house and feed each child, but the payment required from parents is only $1 a day. This means an annual deficit of around $80,000, which must be met by subsidies from the Central Welfare Council and the provincial government (each of which amounts to about $6,000 yearly), and donations from societies and individuals.

The introduction of day camps on a wider scale would not increase this financial burden to any great extent, since food and sleeping quarters are not required.

New stretcher has many uses

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The department of health has introduced a versatile new plywood stretcher into its ambulance service.

The 10-pound unit can be used as a fracture board, traction splint and resuscitator, and folds into a satchel-like bag. Long, sturdy straps keep injured limbs straight, eliminating the use of splints in transit.

A patient can be carried to hospital on the stretcher in comfort in a conventional car. Aluminium legs fold out under the stretcher and make it resemble a saw-saw. A patient strapped to it can be rocked back and forth for artificial respiration.

The Spartan apple fills a real need for growers in the northern areas of the Okanagan where plantings at present are limited to McIntosh largely because of climatic conditions.

Normally, Spartan matures about two weeks after McIntosh, and should not be picked before October 1st. In re-instating this variety on the recommended list the Okanagan Agricultural Club varieties committee has done so with the proviso that no grower should go overboard in planting this variety because there is still a chance that breakdown might once more occur.

Despite the caution that has been exercised during the past several years in recommending Spartan for general planting, many growers have planted this variety and indications are that before many more years elapse there will be a sizeable commercial tonnage of Spartan

"The Rose Tattoo", dramatic screen play comes to Paramount theatre next week

The mark of greatness that lies unmistakably upon a motion picture blazes threefold on the Paramount production of Tennessee Williams' "The Rose Tattoo", coming for four days, Wednesday to Saturday of next week at the Paramount Theatre. No unaccompanied children under 16 years of age will be admitted.

An unashamedly frank and tempestuously dramatic screenplay by America's foremost, Pulitzer Prize winning playwright, the production and direction wizardry of Hal Wallis and Daniel Mann, creators of the memorable "Come Back, Little Sheba," and the superb talents of Burt Lancaster and Italy's magnificent Anna Magnani bid fair to bring forth one of the most talked-about films of all time.

Written by Williams from his own long-run Broadway play, "The Rose Tattoo" presents in a unique and exciting setting an even more fascinating group of characters than his previous success, "A Streetcar Named Desire."

This is the story of a woman who retreated from the world to live in the past with the cherished ashes and memory of her husband, until fate forced her out into the glare of truth and brought her the strangest courtship a woman ever knew.

Anna Magnani, one of the world's supreme actresses, portrays the fiery widow who once knew the greatest love, who demanded in the name of that love an incredible purity from her daughter, but left the back door open to her husband's wild successor. Her performance has been called "award-winning" by some of the nation's most re-

News and views of Scouting

By DES OSWELL, DISTRICT SCOUTER

Third annual Central Okanagan District Camporette: Okanagan who have achieved their First Class Scout. You will note that this rule can be found within the pages of Tenderfoot to Queen's Scout. The other rule specified that the Scout uniform will be the only uniform of any type worn at the Camporette. The score sheets, programs, etc., should be in the hands of Patrol Leaders by this time. If by chance your Scoutmaster has not received his, please have him contact the district scouters.

Along with what I have outlined in the previous paragraphs and what is outlined within the program and score sheet, you should have your work cut out to make your patrol and your troop put on a good show. Good luck to you all. Good camping and good scouting.

DISTRICT NEWS

Last week saw the formation of a new Scout Troop for Peachland. This new troop has within itself the enthusiasm to become a really excellent troop. On behalf of the district, Peachland Scouts, welcome into the world-wide brotherhood of scouting.

Over the Easter holidays eight Queen's Scouts of the Central Okanagan, journeyed to Government

House in Victoria to receive their Queen's Scouts' certificates. Young children often have sight defects but, not understanding that they cannot see as well as other people, they cannot explain that. Before he starts school, every child should have a thorough eye examination, so that any impairment of his sight may be discovered and, if necessary, treated.

There has been a lot going on within the various troops and packs of the district. If the leaders will write or phone in their group news of their own activities, we will be pleased to add it to the column. Good Scouting and Good Cubbing to you all.

Shell awarded city contract for gas, oil

Shell Oil Company has been awarded the contract for supplying gasoline and oil products to the city. Shell submitted the lowest of six tenders received by council. Contract is for $8,103.10.

City called for tenders on 22,000 gallons of standard gasoline; 4,000 gallons diesel fuel; 4,000 gallons fuel oil; 900 gallons lubricating oil; 700 pounds grease; 200 gallons solvent and 200 gallons of kerosene.

Deadline for tenders was March 22. It was pointed out that the tender from Home Oil was not received until March 26, and British American on March 23. However, this made no difference in awarding the contract as Shell was still lower.

Other tenders received were: Home, $8,334.60; Royalite, $8,257.60; Standard, $8,798.10; Imperial, $8,494.64; B.A., $8,183.40.

U.S. gov't requested to declare winter-damaged Wash. fruit belt federal emergency loan area

WENATCHEE — The U.S. Department of Agriculture is being asked to declare winter-damaged North Central Washington's fruit belt as a federal emergency loan area.

Reporting heavy freeze losses, the Washington Growers Clearing House Association has mailed a petition for such a declaration to K. W. Sawyer, state director of the Farmers Home Administration.

The association, which has nearly all the fruit producers of Okanagan, Chelan and Douglas counties as members, based its request on a recent damage survey it launched.

Heavy losses were indicated that 42 per cent of trees in the 10 years and younger age class have been killed, said the petition. Up to 70 per cent were reported lost in the Dryden area.

Emergency loans under the Farmers Home Administration are made at the rate of three per cent interest. They are made only in areas designated as eligible and are made to farmers who have no source of credit elsewhere and who have suffered losses because of "disaster" conditions.

Clearing House Association Manager Leo Lowe and President Ralph Dunning stressed in the petition that assistance would be needed in the district by May 1. They also said the period of such loans would have to go beyond the traditional one-year limit of emergency loans.

Emergency FHA loans are made on the basis of ability to repay. In some cases of orchard damage, where repayment ability is deferred by time needed to get back in production, that repayment period is extended.

The association mailed questionnaires to 55 warehouse managers and so far has received responses from about half. They indicated that at least 150 growers will need emergency credit, "the petition said that number could be doubled."

The poll also indicated growers would turn only to emergency FHA loans as a last resort.

Included in the petition was a damage appraisal by Dr. L. P. Batjer of the USDA. He said the damage came in the November freeze, aggravated by the January 31-February 1 cold snap. He said a high percentage of the sweet cherry trees have been killed. Those still living will produce little, because of bud and sour damage.

TRUNK DAMAGE
Dr. Batjer also said there is widespread trunk and crotch damage to apple trees, mostly in ages two to 12. "In many instances, fruit growers will lose over half of their trees in this age group," he added. Pears, peaches and apricots are less injured but Dr. Batjer said some orchards will lose a high percentage of their young peach trees.

"It is believed that most estimates of damage at the present time will prove to be more conservative than the situation justifies," concluded Dr. Batjer.

The freeze took a heavy toll of pollinizer fruit trees and many growers will have to have financial aid to buy pollen this year, said the petition.

Hail damage of last year and damage to trees from snow this year have further cut into growers' reserves.

Okanagan River dredging will assist outflow

OROVILLE — Dredging operations—designed to aid flow of the Okanagan River from Lake Osoyoos—are expected to be completed late this week.

Started primarily to open the channel sufficiently to float logs to the Zoessel mill, the lumbering firm is going ahead on a wider scale to help reduce high water between the mill south-east of town and Lake Osoyoos.

What the Zoessel Lumber Co. is doing here is a repeat performance of a project carried out by the Army Engineers in the mid 1940's. At that time a gap 200 feet wide and five feet deep was made, and the river course changed to the west of its old location.

Within five or six years, however, Tonasket Creek, flowing into the Okanagan from the Moleson country had washed the channel nearly closed again. "At the confluence of the two streams the channel had been narrowed to about 30 feet and averaged about 18 inches deep."

DREDGING PROJECT
"We started this dredging project so we could float logs to the mill from our upstream dump site," Ralph Zoessel said. "While we were at it, we thought the channel might just as well be widened and cut down to help spill some of the water."

When the project is completed Zoessel estimated it would lower the water as much as a foot between the mill pond and Lake Osoyoos. The channel will be about its original depth of five feet and about 125 feet wide. He estimated the job would cost $3,000.

Before dredging could be started workers had to build a causeway out into the river for the dragline to work from. Pushed out from the east shore into the river, it went to the middle of the stream so the bucket could scoop both sides, and the causeway, originally about 300 feet long, is being picked up as the dragline retreats up the river.

Oroville and Okanagan County are collaborating to the extent of furnishing some trucks to haul away overburden, which is being used to strengthen dikes protecting the town.

to attend the South Okanagan and Similkameen rally which takes place at Okanagan Falls, May 8. Pictures of local scenes were sent to Victoria for the W.I. album which will be sent to Ceylon. The date set for the annual plant sale is Wednesday, May 2 at 2:00 p.m., in the community hall. There will be a selection of plants, shrubs, house plants and a display of home cooking and a table of needlework including aprons and tea cloths. Afternoon tea will be served.

Mental health work was discussed and the W.I. will sponsor a showing of films in conjunction with the Canadian mental health group, in the community hall, Friday, May 4 at 8 p.m. There will be a guest speaker and a question period following. It is hoped everyone in the district will see these pictures. There is no admission charge. The baby clinic will be held in the hall Thursday, May 3, with Mrs. S. Heitzman and Mrs. R. A. Widmeyer assisting. Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. Bauer and Mrs. G. Davidson.

The monthly meeting of the local Girl Guide Association took place in the community hall recently with Mrs. Evans presiding. The treasurer presented a satisfactory report. Mrs. W. Hince spoke of the attributes of the Brownie pack. Seven Brownies will be presented with golden bars, and three with proficiency badges at the next meeting. The annual cookie week was discussed. Brownies uniform will sell cookies in the district May 4 to 12.

Lovers of good music are in for a treat when the South Okanagan Choral Society presents its tenth annual spring concert in the community hall Friday, April 20, with Harold Ball conducting.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Silvester and family drove to Penticton to attend the birthday party given at the home of H. B. Bayne honoring Mr. Silvester Sr., who celebrated his ninetieth birthday. A three-layer centered the supper table and the guest of honor received happy birthday wishes from all the family. Mrs. H. B. Bayne is a daughter of Mr. Silvester.

Cell pack found place in industry
Cell pack for tree fruits has come into its own in B.C. and is now definitely accepted as one of the best packages for handling McIntosh and other apples which bruise easily.

R. P. Walrod, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. general manager, has informed the industry that despite a slightly higher cost, he thinks the tree fruit grower will benefit in the long run through premium returns for this package over the standard wooden box.

"We believe this pack may be vital to the successful marketing of future crops," declared Mr. Walrod.

In Washington, Golden Delicious were packed in cells and premiums of 50 cents to $2 per box were obtained from the trade over the regular standard pack.

In Eastern USA shippers who had only 30 to 40 miles to ship to terminal markets have used cells packs to assure bruise-free deliveries.

Increased acceptability and consumer demand are the two main goals in the more widespread use of the cell pack, however, rather than premium prices, which will probably come in time.

In Chicago, recently, where McIntosh have been a glut on the market, this variety in cells was being picked up by buyers who paid 40 to 50 cents more.

Some areas have been resisting carton containers for some time. Los Angeles was one of those but that marked first switch to the tray pack and has come out definitely now in support of the cell pack.

Over the ocean, United Kingdom buyers were offered cell pack tree fruits from B.C. for the first time this past season and reports indicated they arrived in bruise-free condition. In some cases, three cell-packs McIntosh received higher prices than Delicious in standard packs.

"The cell pack, mainly because of its ability to prevent bruising, is quite an outstanding success for our market," declared one London apple buyer.

"The future position of the McIntosh variety could well depend on our ability to supply cell packs," Mr. Walrod concluded.

United States and Canada celebrate good will week; Kiwanis club sponsors event

The presidents of the U.S. and Canadian Chambers of Commerce have joined in applauding the community leaders spearheading the 35th annual observance of U.S.-Canada Good Will Week. The observance which is set for April 22-23, is being led by the local Kiwanis club. The last day of U.S.-Canada Good Will Week, April 23, is the 15th anniversary of the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement, an informal treaty which demilitarized the 3,000 mile frontier between the two great North American countries.

As part of the Kelowna observance, members of the local Kiwanis plan an inter-club visit with Tonasket over the April 22 weekend.

The two Chamber of Commerce heads represent U.S. and Canadian businesses which find each other in the field of international trade.

In speaking of U.S.-Canada Good Will Week, J. G. Crean, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said:

"I like to think that the 3,000-mile border between Canada and the United States joins us rather than separates us, because nowhere in the world is there a greater international community of interest."

FRIENDLY RELATIONS
"Our countries are growing closer together all the time in knowledge of each other. Politically, of course, we stand independent of each other, but there is a great bond—that of respect for each other's independence and character. We uphold the same fundamental principles, free democratic government, justice and liberty, religious tolerance and religious equality. We come together with a mutual regard that is stronger than written contracts, and with common interests and objectives that are more enduring than formal alliances."

"For our relationship to remain friendly, we must continue to work together for the good of both countries."

Unusual type of swans seen at Westbank

WESTBANK — A flock of large birds were seen flying over the town in a north-easterly direction last week. They were a silvery white, except two which were black. They had a high-pitched shrill cry. A later report confirmed this as being a flock of swans which had been observed swimming for a day or two on Vassar Lake, near Oliver, with two large black birds in the number. Just what species of swan they were is not known.
